SECTION - C : ENGLISH COMPREHENSION

CHAPTER

GRAMMAR

Grammar is the key to attaining success in a competitive examination. If you want success in a competitive exam, it is important to have a good command of grammar and its applications. No matter how hard you prepare for your competitive exams, you can never be too sure of your success.

Before sitting for an examination, it is important to evaluate yourself, where you stand and how much chances of your success are. In the English section of a competitive exam, the kind of questions likely to be asked can be categorised in three parts

- (1) Fill in the blanks;
- (2) Identifying errors in sentences and
- (3) Correcting the sentences.

The questions can be dealt with easily and you can score well if you get your basics clear and right.

HOW THIS BOOK WILL HELP YOU?

This book will help you to understand how language and its components work. It is oriented towards making you more confident user of English by giving you an insight into the correct usage. The material provided is user-friendly with adequate examples and 'practice exercises'.

If you make a concentrated effort, it will not only prepare you for the forthcoming competitive exams but also fine-tune your communication skills.

READING: To supplement your efforts, you should build up reading habits. The material can be of any kind - magazines, newspapers or novels. But, one should consciously look at the usage. Good reading habits will definitely build up your understanding of grammatical usage and help you succeed in competitive exams.

We wish you all the best in your endeavour.

NOUNS

A Noun is a word used as a name of a person, place or thing.

There are five kinds of Noun :

- (a) Proper Noun
- (b) Common Noun
- (c) Collective Noun
- (d) Abstract Noun
- (e) Material Noun

GRAMMAR REGARDING NOUNS THAT WOULD BE USEFUL IN A COMPLETE EXAM:

1. Proper nouns are sometimes used as common nouns.

For example :

- (a) Amitabh is Gandhiji of our class. (Incorrect)
- (b) Amitabh is the Gandhiji of our class, (Correct)

Here Gandhiji does not mean Mahatma Gandhi. The word here stands for the possessor of the qualities that Gandhiji is most known for - truth and non-violence. Thus Gandhiji is being used as a metaphorical common noun. Some nouns have the same form both in singular as well as plural forms.

FOLLOWING ARE RULES REGARDING THE NUMBER OF THE NOUN

2. For example :

- (a) Deer was caught
- (b) Deer were caught.

Here, the singular and plural form of the noun Deer is the same. Like Deer there are other nouns that have the same form in singular as well as plural form. For example: sheep, deer, apparatus, species, series, hundred, dozen, hair etc. Preceding adjectives and articles decide whether the word is used in the singular form or plural form.

For example :

- (a) He paid eight hundred rupees for this pair of shoes.
- (b) India again lost the series.

Nouns denoting large numbers are used both in singular and plural form.

For example:

- (a) Three hundred people attended the function.
- (b) Hundreds of people attended the party.

In sentence a), 'hundred' is preceded by number 'three'. So 'hundred' will take no plural form. Word 'three hundred' indicates plurality. But in sentence b), 'hundred' is not preceded by any number. So to indicate plurality, we will write 'hundreds'. So, rule is that when words like hundred, dozen, thousand, pair, score are not preceded by any word denoting number then they take the plural form. Otherwise not.

Consider some more examples :

- (a) Coca-Cola paid lakhs of rupees to Aamir Khan for promoting their product.
- (b) I brought two dozen bananas.

4. Tell which sentence is correct:
 (a) Since long no news has been heard.
 (b) Since long no news have been heard.
 Sentence (a) is correct. The reason is that some nouns are always used as singular though they look like plural nouns. That's why we should never use the 'plural verb with these words. Other similar words are politics, mathematics, physics, gallows, means, billiards, ethics, summons, innings.
For example :
 (a) Politics is not my cup of tea.
 (b) I received summons.
 (c) Sachin once again played a superb innings.
5. Tell which sentence is correct:
 (a) The spectacles that you are wearing are really nice.
 (b) The spectacles that you are wearing is really nice.
 Sentence (a) is correct. The reason being that some noun words are always used in the plural form.
For example : trousers, arms, drawers, assets, scales, alms, thanks, cards; ashes, riches, premises, scissors, credentials, proceeds.
6. Tell which sentence is correct:
 (a) The cattle was grazing in the field.
 (b) The cattle were grazing in the field.
 Sentence (b) is correct. The reason being that some nouns are always used as plurals though they look like singular. Other nouns like this are—public, people, folk, mankind, poultry, sheep, and police. gentry, peasantry, bulk, majority.
For example :
 (a) The majority are with the leader.
 (b) Police, though late, have come.
 (c) Public wants results.
7. Tell which sentence is correct.
 (a) This project will lead to lots of expenditures.
 (b) This project will lead to lots of expenditure.
 Sentence (b) is correct. The reason is that some nouns are always used as singular. Preceding adjectives or the verb form indicates the singularity or plurality. Other nouns are—expenditure, furniture, information, machinery, issue, offspring, alphabet, scenery, poetry.
For example :
 (a) All the furniture was bought last year.
 (b) All the Information was given to him.
8. Meaning of some nouns in plural form is very different from the meaning of nouns in singular form. Hence, that form should be used which will convey the right meaning.
For example :
 (a) I opened the letter and read its contents.
 (b) Her mouth was fixed in a smile of pure content.
 (c) The conflict between good and evil is age old.
 (d) We must produce goods at competitive prices.
 (e) Delhites breathe the most polluted air in the world.
 (f) She was just putting on airs when she came to visit us/me.
 (g) We should renounce the use of force to settle our dispute.
 (h) Families of people who died as a result of services in the forces should not be ignored.
 (i) I was very excited on my return to my home village.
 (j) Early returns in the ballot indicate majority for opposition.

Vocabulary

Other nouns having different meanings in the singular and plural form are:

Singular with meaning	Plural with meaning
Advice - counsel	Advices - information
Respect - regard	Respects - compliments
Compass - extent	Compasses - instrument or range
Custom - habit	Customs - duties levied on
Ground - Earth	Grounds - reasons
Iron - metal	Irons - fetters made of iron
Mean - average	Means - way or method
Respect - regard	Respects - polite greetings
Colour - hue	Colours - appearance
Physic - medicine	Physics - natural science

FOLLOWING ARE RULES REGARDING GENDER OF THE NOUN :

9. Go through the following singulars and plurals as plural forms are commonly known but their singular forms are not commonly known.

Singular Form	Plural form
Agendum	Agenda
Alumnus	Alumni
Index	Indices
Phenomenon	Phenomena
Criterion	Criteria
Radius	Radii
Formula	Formulae
Memorandum	Memoranda

10. Some noun words have two plurals with different meanings. So that plural form should be selected which will convey the right meaning.

For example :

- (a) I have one brother and one sister (meaning- sons of the same parents).
 (b) Why should only select brethren be allowed to attend the meeting? (meaning - members of same society, organisation)
 (c) I took off my shoes and clothes (meaning- things that people wear).
 (d) Cotton, Nylon, Silk are different kinds of cloths (meaning- kinds or pieces of cloth).

Other nouns having two plurals with different meanings are.

Singular	Plural with different meaning
Die	Dies - stamps Dice - small cubes used in games
Genius	Geniuses - persons of great talent Genie - spirit
Quarter	Quarter - fourth part Quarter(s) - lodging
Manner	Manner - Method Manners - Correct behaviour
Pain	Pain - Suffering Pains - Careful efforts
Spectacle	Spectacle - sight Spectacles - eye-glasses
Penny	Pence - indicate amount of money Pennies - number of coins

11. Collective nouns, even when they denote living beings, are considered to be of the neuter gender.

For example :

- (a) Lalu had a herd of cows. He kept a herdsman to look after her.
 (b) Lalu had a herd of cows. He kept a herdsman to look after it.
 Sentence (b) is correct. Though herd consists of cows (females), herd is not a feminine noun as it a collective noun.
12. Young children and the lower animals are also referred to as of the neuter gender.

For example :

- (a) The baby loves his toys. (Incorrect)
 (b) The baby loves its toys. (correct)
 (c) The mouse lost his tail when the cat pounced on him. (Incorrect)

We are often uncertain regarding the gender of the animals. The mouse here may be a male or a female. So, English language prefers the easy way out: treat it as of the neuter gender.

13. When objects without life are personified they are considered of:

- (i) The masculine gender, if the object is remarkable for strength and violence. Ex. : Sun, Summer, Winter, Time, Death etc.
 (ii) The feminine gender, if the object is remarkable for beauty, gentleness and gracefulness. Ex: Earth, Moon, Spring, Nature, Mercy, etc.

For example:

- (a) The Sun came from behind the clouds and with her brilliance tore the veil of darkness. (Incorrect)
 (b) The Sun came from behind the clouds and with his brilliance tore the veil of darkness. (Correct)

Convention does not see brilliance as a womanly quality, but a manly one.

- (a) Nature offers his lap to him that seeks it. (Incorrect)

- (b) Nature offers her lap to him that seeks it. (Correct)
 The offering of a lap is usually the mother's role. Hence, Nature here should be treated as a feminine noun.
 Tell which sentence is correct.

- (a) The earth goes round the sun in 365 days. Can you calculate her speed?
 (b) The earth goes round the sun in 365 days. Can you calculate its speed?

Sentence (b) is correct. The error being made here is that personification is being brought where it does not exist. In the above statement the earth is being treated as a body (a thing), not a person. The scientist here is not concerned with the womanly qualities of the planet. So, neuter gender should be applied.

FOLLOWING ARE RULES REGARDING APOSTROPHE

14. Rules regarding apostrophes—s:

- (a) Singular noun: We add(s) (apostrophe s') to singular nouns and to irregular plurals that don't end in -s:
 • Barry's house, the college's faculty, the women's liberation movement.
 (b) Singular noun: Only an apostrophe is added when there are too many hissing sounds. For example: Moses' laws, for goodness' sake, for justice' sake.

- (c) Plural nouns ending in (s) like boys, cows: add(') (an apostrophe) to regular plurals.

• The boys' football club, the students union, the labours' movement.

- (d) Plural nouns not ending in (s) like men, children: ('s) is added after the word.

• men's club, children's wear

- (e) 's is added primarily after the living things and personified objects. For example: Governor's bodyguard, horse's head, Nature's law, Fortune's favourite.

- (f) 's is not used with inanimate or non-living things. For example:

table's leg (incorrect)

leg of the table (correct)

book's cover (incorrect)

cover of the book (correct)

- (g) But nouns that denote time, distance or weight, ('s) is used. For example: a stone's throw, in a year's time, the earth's surface.

- (h) Some other common phrases where ('s) is used are : to his heart's content, at his wit's end, out of harm's way.

- (i) When a noun consists of several words, the possessive sign is attached only to the last word.

For example:

- (a) The Queen's of England reaction is important in the Diana episode. (Incorrect)

- (b) The Queen of England's reaction is important in the Diana episode. (Correct)

Do not be mistaken that since it is the Queen's reaction, the ('s) should come after Queen. You might think that putting it after England would make the reaction England's and not the Queen's. This is shortsightedness. Do not see Queen and England in isolation, Queen of England is one whole unit and the apostrophe should come at its end.

- (j) When two nouns are in apposition, the possessive sign is put to the latter only.

For example :

- (a) I am going to Stephen Hawking's the scientist's country. (Incorrect)

- (b) I am going to Stephen Hawking the scientist's country. (Correct)

- (k) When two or more nouns show joint possession, the possessive sign is put to the latter only.

For example:

- (a) Amitabh and Ajitabh are Bachchanji's sons. So Bachclaanji is Amitabh's and Ajitabh's father. (Incorrect)

- (b) Amitabh and Ajitabh are Bachchanji's sons. So Bachchanji is Amitabh and Ajitabh's father. (Correct)

- (l) When two or more nouns show separate possession, the possessive sign is put with both.

For example.

- (a) The audience listened to Javed and Vajpayee's poems. (Incorrect)

- (b) The audience listened to Javed's and Vajpayee's poems. (Correct)

PRONOUNS

A pronoun is a word used instead of a noun.

NOW CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING CASES

- Since a pronoun is used instead of a Noun, it must be of the same number, gender and person as the noun for which it stands. For example: Those beggars are idle. They refuse to work for their living.
- Consider the following two sentences.
 - After a few anxious moments; the jury gave its verdict (Pronoun 'its' is used in place of noun 'jury').
 - The jury were divided in their opinions. (Pronoun 'their' is used in place of noun 'jury')

You must be wondering why different pronoun 'its' and 'their' is used in place of the same noun 'jury' The reason is when a pronoun stands for a collective noun it must be in the singular number and neutral gender. (Sentence (a). But when collective noun conveys the idea of separate individuals comprising the whole, the pronoun standing for it must be of the plural number. In sentence (b), it is clear that members of the jury are not behaving as a whole.

For example :

 - The committee is reconsidering its decision.
 - The committee decided the matter without leaving their seats.

PRONOUNS IN SENTENCES FOUND BY CONJUNCTION

- When two or more singular nouns are joined by 'and', the pronoun used for them must be plural.
For example : Rama and Hari work hard. Their teachers praise them.
But when two Singular nouns joined by 'and' refer to the same person or thing, the pronoun should be singular.
For example : The Secretary and Treasurer is negligent of his duty.
Here the same person is acting as Secretary and Treasurer. That's why singular pronoun is used.
- When two singular nouns joined by 'and' are preceded by 'each' or 'every', then the pronoun must be singular
For example : Every soldier and every sailor was in his place.
- When two or more singular nouns are joined by 'or', 'either...or', 'neither...nor', the pronoun is generally singular.
For example :
 - Neither Abdul nor Rehman has done his lessons.
 - Either Rama or Hari must help his friend.
- When a plural and a singular noun are joined by 'or' or 'nor', the pronoun must be in the plural
For example : Either the manager or his assistants failed in their duty.
- When two things which have been already mentioned are referred to; 'this' refers to the thing last mentioned and 'that' to the thing first mentioned.
For example : Alcohol and Tobacco are both injurious: this perhaps less than that.

RULES REGARDING PERSONAL PRONOUNS

- Tell which sentence is correct:
 - The presents are for you and me.
 - The presents are for you and I.

Sentence (a) is correct. Pronoun has to agree with the case. Here it is the objective case. So, 'me' should be used instead of 'I'. For example : My uncle asked my brother and me to dinner.
- Tell which sentence is correct:
 - He loves you more than I.
 - He loves you more than me.

Sentence (a) is correct 'Than' is a conjunction joining clauses. And the case of the pronoun to be used may be found by writing the clauses in full. So, in sentence (a) two clauses joined by 'than' are 'He loves you more' and 'I love you'. Being a subjective case, 'I' should be used.

For example:

 - He is taller than I (am).
 - He loves you more than (he loves) me.
- When a pronoun refers to more than one noun or pronouns of different persons, it must be of the first person plural in preference to the second and of the second person plural in preference to the third.
For example :
 - You and I, husband and wife, have to look after your home. (Incorrect)
 - You and I, husband and wife, have to look after our home. (Correct)

Now, common sense tells us that if we are a couple, wife and husband, the feeling of togetherness is expressed by our home, not your home. And so does grammar.

Rule: 123. 1 stands for first person, 2 for second person and 3 for third person. The order of precedence is: 1 before 2 and 2 before 3. In the given example, we have 2 and 1. So I will apply; that is, first person. The number, of course, will be plural.

Let us take another example.

 - You and Hari have done their duty. (Incorrect)
 - You and Hari have done your duty. (Correct)

Applying 123 rule. You = 2 and Hari = 3. So, 2. Second person plural gives 'your'.

Similarly, when all the three persons are taken into account, it has to be I; that is, first person plural.

 - You, he and I have not forgotten your roots. (Incorrect)
 - You, he and I have not forgotten our roots. (Correct)
- Each, either and neither are always singular and are followed by the verb in the singular.
For example :
 - Neither of the accusations is true.
 - Each boy took his turn.
 - Each of the lady performs her duty well.
- (A) Please consider the following sentences.
 - This is the boy. He works hard. (He subjective case)
 - This is the boy. His exercise is done well. (His is possessive case)
 - This is the boy. All praise him. (Him is objective case)

13. An apostrophe is never used in 'its', 'yours' and 'theirs'.
14. The complement of the verb be, when it is expressed by a pronoun should be in the nominative form.
For example:
(a) It was he (not him),
(b) It is I (not me) that gave the prizes away.
(c) It might have been he (not him).
15. The case of a pronoun following than or as is determined by mentally supplying the verb.
For example :
(a) He is taller than I (am).
(b) I like you better than he (likes you).
(c) They gave him as much as (they gave) me.
16. A pronoun must agree with its Antecedent in person, number and gender.
For example:
(a) All passengers must show their (not his) tickets.
(b) I am not one of those who believe everything they (not I) hear.

RULES REGARDING DEMONSTRATIVE PRONOUNS

17. That is used
- A. After adjectives in the superlative degree.
For example.
(a) This is the best that we can do.
(b) He is the best speaker that we ever heard.
- B. After the words all, same, any, none, nothing, only
For example:
(a) Man is the only animal that can talk.
(b) He is the same man that he has been.
- C. After two antecedents, one denoting a person and the other denoting an animal or a thing.
For example : The man and the pet that met with an accident yesterday died today.
18. What and That refer to persons as well as things.

RULES REGARDING RELATIVE PRONOUNS

19. On combining each of the above pairs into one sentence
(a) This is the boy who works hard.
(Who in place of He)
(b) This is the boy whose exercise is done well.
(Whose in place of His)
(c) This is the boy whom all praise.
(Whom in place of Him)

The above sentences show when to use who, whose and whom. Who is the subjective case, Whose the possessive case and Whom the objective case.

20. Who is used for persons only. It may refer to a singular or plural noun.
For example :
(a) He who hesitates is lost.
(b) Blessed is he who has found his work.
21. Whose can be used for persons as well as things without life also.
For example :
(a) This is the hotel whose owner is a criminal.
(b) This is the person whose willpower is extraordinary.

22. Which is used for inanimate things and animals. Which is used for both singular as well as plural noun.

For example :

- (a) I have found the book which I had lost last week.
(b) The horse which won the race yesterday, is my favourite.
23. When 'which' is used for selection, it may refer to a person as well as things.
For example :
(a) Which of the packets is yours?
(b) Which of the boys has not done his homework?
24. Who, Which, Whom, That, Whose should be placed as near to the antecedent as possible.
For example :
(a) I with my family reside in Delhi, which consists of my wife and parents. (Incorrect)
This sentence is wrong as which relates to 'my' family'. So 'which' should be placed as near to family' as possible. So, the correct sentence is.
(b) I with my family which consists of my wife and parents, reside in Delhi.

25. Who is used in the nominative cases and whom in the objective cases.

For example :

- (a) There is Mr. Dutt, who (not whom) they say is the best painter in the town.
(b) The Student, whom (not who) you thought so highly of, has failed to win the first prize.
26. When the subject of a verb is a relative pronoun, the verb should agree in number and person with the antecedent of the relative.
For example :
(a) This is one of the most interesting novels that have (not has) appeared this year. (Here, antecedent of relative pronoun that is novels and not one)
(b) This is the only one of his poems that is (not are) worth reading. (Here the antecedent of that is one and not poems. Note the difference between sentence (a) and (b).

OTHER USEFUL RULES

27. None is used in the singular or plural as the sense may require.
For example:
(a) Each boy was accompanied by an adult but there were none with the orphan. (Incorrect)
(b) Each boy was accompanied by an adult but there was none with the orphan. (Correct)
(c) I am used to many guests everyday but there was none today. (Incorrect)
(d) I am used to many guests everyday but there were none today. (Correct)
28. When 'one' is used as pronoun, its possessive form 'one's' should follow instead of his, her etc.
For example : One must put one's best efforts if one wishes to succeed.

29. With let objective case of the pronoun is used.
For example : Let you and me do it.
30. If a pronoun has two antecedents, it should agree with the nearer one.
For example :
(a) I hold in high esteem everything and everybody who reminds me of my failures.
(b) I hold in high esteem everybody and everything, which reminds me of my failures.
31. In referring to anybody, everybody, anyone, each etc., the pronoun of the masculine or the feminine gender is used according to the context.
For example.
(a) I shall be glad to help everyone of my boys in his studies.
(b) I shall be glad to help everyone of my girls in her studies.
(c) I shall be glad to help everyone of my students in his studies.
But when gender is not determined, the pronoun of the masculine gender is used as in sentence (c).
32. (A) The pronoun one should be used throughout, if used at all.
For example:
(a) One must use one's best efforts if one wishes to succeed.
(b) One should be careful about what one says.
(B) Plural is commonly used with none.
For example.
(a) None of his poems are well known.
(b) None of these words are now current.
In case of 'none' the verb can be both singular and plural (according to the sense)
33. Anyone should be used when more than two persons or things are spoken of.
For example : She was taller than anyone of her five sisters.

TENSES

1. Tense is the form taken by a verb to indicate time and continuance or completeness of action. The continuance or completeness of action is denoted by four subcategories.
- Simple Tense: It is need for habitual or routine actions in the Present Tense, action which is over in the Past Tense & action to happen in the Future Tense. The action is mentioned simply. Nothing is said about whether the action is complete.
 - Continuous Tense : The action is incomplete or continuous or going on.
 - Perfect Tense: The action is complete, finished or perfect with respect to a certain point of time.
 - Perfect Continuous Tense: The action is going on continuously over a long period of time and is yet to be finished.
2. The different tenses and the verb forms used in each tense are given below :
- | Singular with meaning | Plural with meaning |
|----------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| Name of Tenses | Verb form used in Tenses |
| Present simple / indefinite | Verb + s/es |
| Present continuous / Progressive | Is/am/are + verb + ing |
| Present perfect | Has / have + third form of verb |
| Present perfect continuous | Has/have + been + verb + ing |
| Past simple / indefinite | Second form of verb |
| Past continuous / Progressive | Was/were + verb + ing |
| Past perfect | Had + third form of verb |
| Past perfect continuous | Had been + verb + ing |
| Future simple / indefinite | Shall / will + verb |
| Future continuous / Progressive | Shall / will + be + verb + ing |
| Future perfect | Shall/will + Have + past participle |
| Future perfect continuous | Shall/will + have been + verb + ing |
3. The simple Present tense is used
- To express a habitual action.
For example : I get up every day at five o'clock.
 - To express general truths.
For example : Fortune favours the brave.
 - In vivid narrative, as substitute for the simple past.
For example : Immediately the Sultan hurries to his capital.
 - To indicate a future event that is part of a fixed programme or time table.
For example : The train leaves at 5:20 am.
Note: We can also use will leave in place of leaves.
 - It is used to introduce quotations.
For example : Keats says, 'A thing of beauty is a joy forever'.
 - In exclamatory sentences beginning with here and there to express what is actually taking place in the present.
For example : Here comes the bus!
 - When two actions of the future are being talked about, one dependent on the other, the former action is represented by present simple and the latter by future simple.
For example : We shall go when the child comes back home.
4. The Present Continuous tense is used
- For an action going on at the time of speaking.
For example : The boys are playing cricket in the ground.
 - For a temporary action that may not be actually happening at the time of speaking but was happening in the recent past and is still happening in recent future.
For example : I am reading Sidney Sheldon now-a-days.

- (III) To express changing or developing situations.

For example : India is progressing day by day.

- (IV) For an action that is planned or arranged to take place in the near future.

For example : I am going to cinema tonight.

Note: But it is not good to use the present continuous for slightly distant future. So, don't say

- (a) I am going to cinema next week.

Rather, use the future simple. So, it is better if you say

- (b) I will go to cinema next week.

- (V) When the reference is to a particularly obstinate habit, the present continuous is used instead of present simple. An adverb like always, continually, constantly is also used.

For example : It is no use scolding him; he always does what is forbidden. (Incorrect)

Note: that his doing what is forbidden has become a die-hard habit. The habit persists in spite of advice or warning. So, we should use the present continuous.

For example : It is no use scolding him; he is always doing what is forbidden. (Correct)

5. The Present Perfect tense is used

- (I) To indicate the completed activities in the immediate past.

For example : He has just gone out.

- (II) Action completed in the immediate past or an action of the past whose effect lingers in the present.

For example : I wrote three books. (Incorrect)

The given sentence appears to be incomplete. The reader of the sentence immediately queries. 'When did you write three books?' It would be a different case if you said

For example : I wrote books.

Then the reader would infer that you wrote books in the past as a profession or hobby. But when you are being so specific as to say "three books", we immediately feel the need of a time frame. Since no time frame is mentioned, we assume it to be 'by now'. So, we have something to the effect.

For example : I have written three books by now.

This 'by now' is implied and need not be written. So,

For example : I have written three books. (Correct)

- (III) The present perfect is never used with adverbs of past time. In such cases the past simple should be used.

For example : India has won the match last week.

(Incorrect)

"Last week" is not immediate past. You may therefore be tempted to use the present perfect. But remember that the immediate past here does not go unindicated.

Last week is being used as an adverb of past time. So, For example : India won the match last week. (Correct)

- (IV) To express past actions whose time is not given and not definite - actions with their effect continuing in the present.

For example :

- (a) I have never known him to be angry.

- (b) Have you read 'Gulliver's Travels'?

- (V) To describe the past events when we think more of their effect in the present than of the action itself.

For example : I have cut my finger.

- (VI) For long actions and situations which started in the near past and went on until very recently.

For example : I have read three chapters since this morning.

6. The Present Perfect Continuous tense is used for an action, which began at sometime in the past and is still continuing. With the present perfect continuous tense an adverb or phrase that expresses time is used.

For example :

- (a) I have been reading this book since morning.

- (b) They have been building the bridge for several months.

7. The Simple Past tense is used

- (I) To indicate an action completed in the past. Generally, adverbs or adverb phrases of past time are used in the past simple tense.

For example:

- (a) The steamer sailed yesterday.

- (b) He went home sometime back.

- (II) To express imaginary present situations or imaginary future events that may not happen.

For example :

- (a) If I had longer holidays, I would be very happy.

- (b) If I got rich, I would travel all over the world.

- (III) When this tense is used without an adverb of time, then time may be either implied or indicated by the context.

For example : I didn't sleep well. (i.e., last night)

- (IV) For past habits 'used to' is added to the verb.

For example : She carried an umbrella.

8. The Past Continuous tense is used;

- (I) To denote an action going on at some time in the past. The time of the action may or may not be indicated.

For example :

- (a) It was getting darker.

- (b) We were listening to the radio all evening.

- (II) When a new action happened in the middle of a longer action. In this case Past Simple and Past Continuous are used together. Past Simple is used for the new action.

For example : The Light went out while I was reading.

- (III) For persistent habits in the past.

For example : She was always chewing gum.

9. The Past Perfect tense is used when two actions happened in the past. In this case it is necessary to show which action happened earlier than the other. Here past perfect is used for the action, which happened earlier.

For example :

- (a) When I reached the station the train had started.

- (b) I had done my exercise when Hari came to see me.

10. The past perfect continuous is used for an action that began before a certain point in the past and continued up to that time. A time expression like since last year, for the last few days is generally put after perfect continuous tense.
For example : At that time he had been writing a novel for two months.
11. The simple future is used for an action that has still to take place.
For example :
(a) I shall see him tomorrow.
(b) Tomorrow will be Sunday.
12. The Future Continuous tense
(I) Represents an action as going on at sometime in the future.
For example : I shall be reading the paper then.
(II) Represents the future events that are planned.
For example : He will be meeting us next week.
13. The Future Perfect tense is used to indicate the completion of an event by a certain future time.
For example : I shall have written my exercise by that time.
14. The Future Perfect Continuous tense indicates an action represented; it being in progress over a period of time that will end in the future. Generally time period is mentioned along with it.
For example : By next July we shall have been living here for four years.
15. Event occurring at the same time must be given in the same tense.
For example : When he fainted his brother was with him.
16. Will or Shall cannot be used twice in the same sentence even if both the actions refer to the future tense.
For example :
(a) I shall come if he will call me. (Incorrect)
(b) I shall come if he calls me. (Correct)
17. With the phrases as if and as though the past tense and plural form of the verb should be used.
For example :
(a) He behaves as if he is a king. (Incorrect)
(b) He behaves as if he were a king. (Correct)
18. With the word 'wish' four verbs are used namely were, had, could, would. 'Were' is used when the wish seems to be unrealisable.
For example : I wish I were a king.
'Had' is used when our wish is a lament over the past happening.
For example : I wish I had accepted that job. 'Would' is used when we refer to the future.
For example : I wish I would get a ticket.
'Could' is used when we wish that something that has happened already should have happened otherwise.
For example : He did not go because he was busy yesterday. I wish he could go with you.
19. 'For' is used for a period of time.
For example : He has been working for two hours.
'Since' is used with a point of time.
For example : He has been working since morning.
20. In case of conditional sentences 'had' and 'would have' are used.
For example : If I had met him I would have invited him.

ARTICLES

1. 'A' or 'an' does not refer to a particular person or thing. It leaves indefinite the person or thing spoken of.
For example : I saw a doctor. (means I saw any doctor)
2. An is used before a word beginning with vowel sound (please note that the word begins... with vowel sound and not necessarily a vowel itself).
For example : an ass, an enemy, an inkstand, an orange, an umbrella, an hour.
3. An is placed before an abbreviation if the first letter of an abbreviation is F, H, L, M, N, R, S or X.
For example :
(a) An MBA was required for the post.
(b) An SAO is an officer of high rank.
4. A is used before a word beginning with a consonant sound.
For example : a boy, a woman a horse, a one-rupee note, a university, a European (both university and European begin with a consonant sound of 'yu').
5. A and an are used with words 'few' and 'little' if they refer to a small number or a small amount. Words 'few' and 'little' without the articles means almost none.
For example:
(a) We have little time to spare. (means almost no time)
(b) We have a little time to spare. (means some time)
(c) Few persons were present at the meeting. (means almost no one was present)
(d) A few persons were present at the meeting. (means some were present)
6. A is used in the following senses :
(A) In its original numerical sense of one.
For example:
a) Not a word was said.
b) A word to the wise is sufficient.
(B) In the vague sense of a certain time.
For example : One evening a beggar came to my door.
(C) In the sense of any, to single out an individual as the representative of a class.
For example : A pupil should obey his teacher.
(D) To make a common noun of a proper noun.
For example : A Daniel came to judgement. (A Daniel = A very wise man)
7. 'The' points out some particular person or thing or someone or something already referred to.
For example :
(a) I saw the doctor. (means I saw some particular doctor)
(b) The book you want is out of print.
8. 'The' is used with names of gulfs, rivers, seas, oceans, groups of islands and mountain ranges.
For example :
The Persian Gulf, The Red Sea, The Indian Ocean, The British Isles, The Alps.
9. 'The' is used before the name of certain books.
For example : The Vedas, The Puranas, The Ramayana.
But we never say 'The Valmiki's Ramayana'. The is not used when the name of a book is mentioned along with the author's name. So, 'Valmiki's Ramayana' is correct.

10. The is used before the names of things unique of their kind.
For example : the sun, the sky, the ocean, the sea.
11. The is used before a plural common noun if it refers to a particular group among the class and not the whole class.
For example : Drive away the cows from the field.
12. The is used before a proper noun only when it is qualified by an adjective.
For example : The great Rani of Jhansi, the immortal Kalidas.
13. The is used before the superlatives.
For example :
(a) Sachin is the best batsman in the world today.
(b) The best person should win.
14. The noun if emphasis is laid on the use of such a noun.
Here, noun can be proper or abstract noun
(a) the time for doing it.
(b) occasion to help the distressed.
15. The is used with ordinals.
For example :
(a) He was the first student to finish his homework.
(b) The second chapter of the book is very interesting.
16. The is used before an adjective when the noun is understood.
For example :
(a) The poor are always with us. (Here poor mean poor people, which is understood.)
(b) The weak and the strong. (Here weak means weak people and strong means strong people.)
17. No article is used before a common noun when it refers to all the members of the class.
For example :
(a) Man is mortal.
(b) Fish has high protein content.
(c) What kind of flower is it?
18. The is used before a common noun to give it the meaning of an abstract noun.
For example : The devil in him begins its misdeeds now and then.
19. No article is used before the names of materials such as gold, stone, wine, iron, wheat, wood, cloth.
For example :
(a) Gold is a precious metal.
(b) Wheat grows in Uttar Pardesh, Haryana and Madhya Pardesh.
(c) Iron is a useful metal.
Note: But it is correct to say.
For example : An iron is a useful gadget.
Because here we are not taking about material iron, but the object which is used to make clothes smooth.
20. No article is used before proper nouns.
For example :
(a) Delhi is the capital of India.
(b) Newton was a great philosopher.
But consider the following examples where an article is used before a proper noun.
(a) This man is a second Newton.
(b) Mumbai is the Manchester of India.
Here Newton and Manchester is not used as a proper noun but a common noun. The first sentence means that this man is as great as Newton and the second sentence means that Mumbai is a great manufacturing City like Manchester.
21. No articles are used before a common noun used in its widest sense.
For example :
(a) The science has developed much in the past hundred years. (Incorrect)
(b) Science has developed much in the past hundred years. (Correct)
22. No article is used before the noun following 'Kind of':
For example :
(a) What kind of a hobby is this? (Incorrect)
(b) What kind of hobby is this? (Correct)
23. No article is used before abstract nouns.
For example :
(a) Wisdom is the gift of heaven.
(b) Honesty is the best policy.
But consider the following examples where an article is used before an abstract noun.
(a) The wisdom of Solomon is famous.
(b) I cannot forget the kindness with which he treated me.
Here the article is used before the abstract noun as the abstract noun has been qualified by an adjective or adjectival clause.
24. No article is used before languages, subject of arts and science.
For example :
(a) We are studying English.
(b) Geometry is the toughest subject I ever studied.
25. No article is used before words such as school, college, church, bed, table, hospital, market, prison.
For example :
(a) I went to school till last year.
(b) I have never been to hospital.
But an article is used before these words when reference is made to a definite place or some particular purpose. For example: I am going to the school. (= means I am going to my child's school for some particular purpose i.e., to deposit the fee).
26. No article is used before the name of relations like father, mother, aunt, uncle.
For example : Mother would like to see you.
But if someone else's mother is being talked about then the should be used.
For example : The mother would like to see you.
27. Article should not be used before positions that are held at one time by one person only.
For example :
(a) Pranab Mukherjee is was elected the President of the country. (Incorrect)
(b) Pranab Mukherjee is elected President of the country. (Correct)
28. Consider this sentence :
(a) I have a black and white cat.
Here I mean that I have one cat that is partly black and partly white.
Now, consider this sentence
For example : I have a black and a white cat.
Here I mean that I have two cats one is black and the other white. Hence the rule is that when two or more adjectives qualify the same noun, the article is used before the first adjective only. But when they qualify different nouns, the article is used before each adjective separately.

Consider one more example.

- (a) The President and Chairman is absent.
- (b) The President and the Chairman are present.

Sentence (a) means that only one person is acting as president as well as chairman. Sentence (b) means that two different persons are acting as the President and the Chairman and both the persons are absent.

ADJECTIVES

Adjectives are the words that describe the qualities of a noun or pronoun in a given sentence.

CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING

1. Tell which sentence is correct:
 - (a) Flowers are plucked freshly.
 - (b) Flowers are plucked fresh.

Sentence (b) is correct as, adjective is correctly used with a verb when some quality of the subject rather than verb is to be expressed. Here, fresh describes the word Flowers (a noun) and not plucked (a verb).

DEMONSTRATIVE ADJECTIVE AND ITS RULES

2. This and that are used with the singular nouns and these and those are used with plural nouns
For example :
 - (a) This mango is sour.
 - (b) These mangoes are sour.
 - (c) That boy is industrious
 - (d) Those boys are industrious.
3. This and these indicate something near to the speaker while that and those indicate something distant to the speaker.
For example :
 - (a) This girl sings.
 - (b) These girls sing.
 - (c) That girl sings.
 - (d) Those girls sing.

DISTRIBUTIVE ADJECTIVES AND ITS RULES

4. Each is used when reference is made to the individuals forming any group. Each is also used when the number of the group is limited and definite.
For example :
 - (a) Five members were seated on each chair.
 - (b) I was in Shimla for five days and it rained each day.

Every is used when reference is made to total group or when the number is indefinite.
For example :
 - (a) Every seat was taken.
 - (b) I go to the movies every week.
 - (c) Leap year falls in every fourth year.
5. Each, either, neither and every are always followed by the singular noun.
For example :
 - (a) Each boy must take his turn.
 - (b) Every word of it is false.
 - (c) Neither accusation is true.

ADJECTIVES OF QUANTITY AND ITS RULES

6. Some is used in affirmative sentences to express quantity or degree.
For example : I shall buy some bananas.
Any is used in the negative or interrogative sentences to express quantity or degree.
For example :
 - (a) I shall not buy any bananas.
 - (b) Have you bought any bananas?

But some is an exception to the above rule. Some is used in interrogative sentences, which are commands or requests.
For example : Will you please lend me some money?
7. Few is used for countable objects and little is used for non-countable objects.
8. Little means not much. So use of the word little has a negative meaning.
For example :
 - (a) There is little hope of his recovery.
 - (b) He has little appreciation of hard work.

A little means some though not much. So, use of a little has a positive meaning.
For example :
 - (a) There is a little hope of his recovery.
 - (b) He has a little appreciation of hard work.The little means not much but all there is.
For example :
 - (a) The little information he had was quite reliable.
 - (b) The little knowledge of management he possessed was not sufficient to stand him in good stead.
9. Few means not many. So use of the word few has a negative meaning.
For example : Few men are free from faults.
A few means some. So use of word a few has a positive meaning.
For example : A few men are free from faults.
The few mean not many, but all there are.
For example : The few remarks that he made were very good.
10. Only uncountable nouns follow much, little, some, enough, sufficient and whole.
For example :
 - (a) I ate some rice.
 - (b) There are not enough spoons.

INTERROGATIVE ADJECTIVE AND ITS RULES

11. What is used in the general sense and which is used in a selective sense.
For example :
 - (a) Which of you haven't brought your book?
 - (b) What manner of man is he?

DEGREES OF COMPARISON OF ADJECTIVES AND ITS RULES

12. The comparative form ending in 'er' is used when we are comparing one quality in two persons.
For example : Anjali is wiser than Rahul.

But if we wish to compare two qualities in the same person then the comparative form ending in 'er' is not used.
For example : Anjali is wiser than brave.

13. When two objects are compared with each other, the latter term of comparison must exclude the former.
For example :
(a) Delhi is bigger than any other city in India.
If we say,
(b) Delhi is bigger than any city in India.
Then we are saying Delhi is bigger than Delhi, as any city in India includes Delhi also. And this is obviously wrong.
14. In a comparison by means of a superlative the latter term should include the former.
For example :
(a) Delhi is the biggest of all cities in India.
(b) Of all men he is the strongest.
Kindly note the difference in this and previous rule.
15. Later and latest refer to time.
For example :
(a) He is later than I expected.
(b) This is the latest news.
Latter and last refer to position.
For example :
(a) The last player could not bat as he was injured.
(b) The latter chapters are very interesting.
Latter is used when there are two only, last when there are more than two.
For example :
(a) Of Manohar, Syam and Joshi, the latter is a driver.
(b) Of Manohor, Syam and Joshi, the last is a driver.
(Incorrect)
(Correct)
16. Elder and eldest are used only of persons (usually members of the same family).
For example :
(a) My elder sister is doing MBA from IIM Ahemdabad.
(b) My eldest brother is getting married today.
Older and oldest are used of both persons and things.
For example :
(a) This is the oldest building in the city.
(b) Anthony is the oldest boy in the class.
17. Further means more distant or advanced whereas farther means additional.
For example :
(a) No one discussed the topic further.
(b) Kolkata is farther from the equator than Colombo.
18. The comparative degree is generally followed by 'than', but comparative adjectives ending in is or are are followed by the preposition 'to'.
For example :
(a) Akshay is inferior to Aamir in intelligence.
(b) Aamir is superior to Akshay in intelligence.
(c) He is junior to me.
(d) Who was captain prior to Azhar ?
19. Adjectives such as square, round, perfect, eternal, universal, unique do not admit of different degrees. So they cannot be compared. Thus strictly speaking we cannot say that a thing is more square more round or more perfect. But sometimes we do make exceptions to this rule.
For example : This is the most perfect specimen I have seen.
20. When the comparative form is used to express selection from two of the same kind or class, it is followed by 'of' and preceded by 'the'.
For example :
(a) Ramesh is stronger of the two boys.
21. When than or as is followed by the third person pronoun, the verb is to be repeated.
For example : Ram is not as clever as his brother is.
22. When than or as is followed by first or second person pronoun, the verb can be omitted.
For example : He is more intelligent than you.
23. In comparing two things or classes of things the comparative should be used.
For example :
(a) Of two evils choose the lesser (not least).
(b) Which is the better (not best) of the two?
24. A very common form of error is exemplified in the following sentence.
(a) The population of London is greater than any town in India.
(b) The population of London is greater than that of any town in India.
Sentence (b) is correct as the comparison is between the population of London and the population of any town in India.
25. Double comparatives and superlatives should be avoided.
For example :
(a) Seldom had the little town seen a more costlier funeral.
(Incorrect)
(b) Seldom had the little town seen a costlier funeral.
(Correct)
(c) Seldom had the little town seen a more costly funeral.
(Correct)
26. Preferable has the force of comparative and is followed by to. Phrase 'more preferable' should not be used.
For example :
(a) Coffee is more preferable to tea. (Incorrect)
(b) Coffee is preferable to tea. (Correct)
27. Less refers to quantity whereas fewer refers to number.
For example :
(a) No fewer than fifty miners were killed in the explosion.
(b) We do not sell less than ten kg of tea.
28. Certain adjectives do not really need comparison because their meaning is already superlative. Such words are—unique, Ideal, perfect, complete, universal, entire, extreme, chief, full, square, round. Therefore phrases like most unique, more round, fullest, chiefest, etc. are wrong.
29. If there is a gradual increase, it is generally expressed with two comparatives and not with positives.
For example :
(a) It grew hot and hot. (Incorrect)
(b) It grew hotter and hotter. (Correct)

OTHER COMMON RULES

30. 'Verbal' means 'of or pertaining to words' whereas 'oral' means 'delivered by word of mouth or not written'. Hence the opposite of written is oral, not verbal.

For example :

- (a) His written statement differs in several important respects from his oral (not verbal) statement.
 (b) The boy was sent with an verbal message to the doctor.
31. 'Common' means shared by all concerned. If a fact is a common Knowledge, it means the knowledge of the fact is shared by all. Everyone knows about it. 'Mutual' means in relation to each other. If you and I are mutual admirers, it means I admire you and you admire me. We might also have a common admirer who admires both of us.
- (a) We stopped smoking on the advice of a mutual friend. (Incorrect)
 (b) We stopped smoking on the advice of a common friend. (Correct)

It is apparent that there are two or more than two of us. Apart from us, there is a person (friend). Since he is a friend to all of us, this friend is being shared by all of us. So, he is a common friend. Now, look at this sentence.

For example : We stopped smoking on mutual advice.

It means I advised, you not to smoke and you advised me not to smoke.

OTHER COMMON ERRORS

32. Other common errors.
- (a) These kind of questions is often asked in the examinations. (Incorrect)
 (b) This kind of question is often asked in the examinations. (Correct)
 (c) He is as good if not better than his brother. (Incorrect)
 (d) He is as good as if not better than his brother. (Correct)
 (e) The future do not hold much for you. (Incorrect)
 (f) The future does not hold much for you. (Correct)

VERB

1. Two or more singular subjects connected by 'and' usually take a verb in the plural.
For example : Hari and Rama are there.
2. If two singular nouns refer to the same person or thing, the verb must be singular.
For example : My friend and benefactor has come.
3. If two subjects together express one idea, the verb may be in the singular.
For example : The horse and the carriage is at the door.
4. Two or more singular subjects connected by 'or', 'nor', either... or, neither...nor take a verb in the singular.
For example : Neither he nor I was there.
 But when subjects joined by 'or', 'nor' are of different numbers, the verb must be plural, and the plural subject must be placed next to the verb.
For example : Rama and his brothers have done this.
 When the subjects joined by 'or', 'nor' are of different persons, the verb agrees in person with the nearest one.

For example :

- (a) Either he or I am mistaken.
 (b) Neither you nor he is to blame.
5. When words are joined to a singular subject by 'with', 'together with', 'in addition to', 'as well as', then also number of the verb remains singular.
For example : The Chief with all his men, was massacred.
6. Following examples exemplify the common mistakes committed:
- (a) His diet was abstemious, his prayers long and fervent. (Incorrect as subjects are not in the same number.)
 (b) His diet was abstemious, his prayers were long and fervent. (Correct)
 (c) He never has and never will, take such strong measures. (Incorrect)
 (d) He never has taken, and never will take, such strong measures. (Correct)
 (e) Ten new members have been enrolled and seven resigned. (Incorrect)
 (f) Ten new members have been enrolled and seven have resigned. (Correct)
 (g) Being a very hot day, I remained in my tent. (Incorrect as participle being is referring to none)
 (h) It being a very hot day, I remained in my tent. (Correct)
 (i) Sitting on the gate, a scorpion stung him. (Incorrect as participle sitting is not referring to any word)
 (j) While he was sitting on the gate, a scorpion stung him. (Correct)
7. The verb lay (lay, laid, laid) is transitive and is always followed by an object. The verb lie (lie, lay, lain) is intransitive and cannot have an object.
For example :
 (a) Lay the child to sleep.
 (b) Let me lie here.
 (c) I laid the book on the table.

AGREEMENT OF THE SUBJECT WITH THE VERB

1. A verb must agree with its subject in number and person. Often due to "Error of Proximity": the verb is made to agree in number with a noun near it, instead of with its proper subject.
For example :
 (a) The quality of the mangoes were not good. (Incorrect since subject is quality, a singular and not mangoes.)
 (b) The quality of the mangoes was not good (Correct).
 (c) His knowledge of Indian vernaculars are far beyond the common. (Incorrect)
 (d) His knowledge of Indian vernaculars is far beyond the common. (Correct)
2. Verb should be singular even when some words are joined to a singular subject by 'with', 'as well as' etc,
For example :
 (a) The chairman, with the directors, is to be present.
 (b) Silver, as well as cotton, has fallen in prices.

3. Two or more singular subjects connected by 'or', 'nor' require singular verb.

For example :

- (a) No nook or corner was left unexplored.
(b) Our happiness or our sorrow is largely due to our own actions.

4. If two singular nouns express one idea, the verb is in the singular.

For example :

- (a) Bread and Butter are essential for one's life. (Incorrect)
(b) Bread and Butter is essential for one's life. (Correct)

5. Either, neither, each, everyone, many must be followed by a singular verb.

For example :

- (a) Neither of the two men was very strong.
(b) Every one of the prisons is full.
(c) Many a man has done so.
(d) He asked whether either of the applicants was suitable.

6. When the subjects joined by 'or', 'nor' are of different numbers, the verb must be plural, and the plural must be placed next to the verb.

For example :

- (a) Neither Rekha nor her friends was present at the party. (Incorrect)
(b) Neither Rekha nor her friends were present at the party. (Correct)

7. When a plural noun denotes some specific quantity or amount considered as a whole, the verb is generally singular.

For example :

- (a) Five hours are too short a time to judge one's character. (Incorrect)
(b) Five hours is too short a time to judge one's character. (Correct)

This is so because five hours is considered as one chunk.

8. Two nouns qualified by each or every, even though connected by 'and' require a singular verb.

For example : Every boy and every girl was given a packet of sweets.

9. 'None' though singular commonly takes a plural verb.

For example : None are so deaf as those who will not hear.

10. Tell which sentence is correct.

- (a) Put in to bat first, a huge total was expected from India.
(b) Put in to bat first, India was expected to pile up a huge total.

Now: who has been put in to bat first? A huge total of India? Common sense tells us it must be India. But the sentence (a), as it stands, appears otherwise. So, sentence (b) is correct.

- (a) Being a rainy day, I decided to take my umbrella.

- (b) It being a rainy day, I decided to take my umbrella.

The sentence (a), as it stands, gives us the impression that being a rainy day qualifies I. This is simply not true. I am not a rainy day. So sentence (b) is correct.

11. When a plural noun denotes some specific quantity or amount considered as a whole, the verb is generally singular.

For example :

- (a) One hundred paise is equal to one rupee.
(b) Six miles is a long distance.
(c) Fifty thousand rupees is a large sum.

ADVERBS

A word that modifies the meaning of a verb as called an Adverb.

SOME IMPORTANT RULES

1. Adverbs of manner such as well, fast, quickly, carefully, calmly etc. are placed after the verb if there is no object and after the object if there is one.

For example :

- (a) It is raining heavily.
(b) She speaks English well.

2. Adverbs of time such as always, often sometimes, never, generally, ever merely, seldom etc., are placed before the verb they qualify.

For example :

- (a) I seldom meet him. (Correct)
(b) I meet him seldom. (Incorrect)

Adverbs of degree refer to words which show "how much", "in what degree" or "to what extent" does the action taken place.

CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING :

3. Meaning of too is more than enough. Too denotes some kind of excess.

For example :

- (a) He is too weak to walk.
(b) It is never too late.

Hence, use of very in place of too is wrong.

For example : Instead of saying that:

- (a) Cow's milk is too nutritious.
We should say that
(b) Cow's milk is very nutritious.

4. Enough is placed after the word it qualifies.

For example : Everyone should be strong enough to support one's family.

It will be wrong if we write 'Everyone should be enough strong to support one's family'.

5. Much is used with past participles.

For example :

- (a) He was much disgusted with his life.
(b) The news was much surprising.

Very is used with present participles.

For example :

- (a) It is very disgusting to ask him for a loan.
(b) The news is very surprising.

6. When very and much are used to qualify superlative form of adjectives/adverbs, they should be put before the word 'very' and after the word 'much'.

For example :

- (a) Rim is the very best boy in his class.
(b) Rim is much the best boy in his class.

Adverbs of Affirmation or Negation refer to words that assert the action emphatically.

Consider these examples :

- (a) He certainly was a winner among them.
(b) Luckily he survived the crash.

CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING

7. No sooner should always be followed by than.

For example :

- (a) No sooner I saw him I trembled with fear. (Incorrect)
 (b) No sooner did I see him than I trembled with fear. (Correct)

8. Not should not be used with the words, which have negative meaning if we want the sentence to be negative.

For example :

- (a) I received no letter neither from him nor from her. (Incorrect)
 (b) I received letter neither from him nor from her. (Correct)

9. Of course is used to denote a natural consequence. It should not be used in place of certainly, undoubtedly.

For example :

- (a) Of course he is the best player. (Incorrect)
 (b) He is certainly the best player. (Correct)

FOLLOWING ARE COMMON RULES OF ADVERBS IN GENERAL

10. Only is used before the word it qualifies.

For example :

- (a) Only I spoke to him.
 (b) I only spoke to him.
 (c) I spoke to him only.

11. Else is followed by but and not by than.

For example : It is nothing else but hypocrisy.

12. 'As' is often used in a sentence though there is no need for it. For example :

- (a) He is elected as the President. (Incorrect)
 (b) He is elected President. (Correct)

13. 'Perhaps' means possibly whereas 'probably' means most likely. For example :

- (a) Where is Govinda? Perhaps he is not here. (Incorrect)
 (b) Where is Govinda? Probably he is not here. (Correct)

PREPOSITION

1. In is used with the names or countries and large towns; at is used when speaking of small towns and villages. For example :

- (a) I live in Delhi.
 (b) I live at Rohini in Delhi.

2. In and at are used in speaking of things at rest; to and into are used in speaking of things in motion. For example :

- (a) He is in bed.
 (b) He is at the top of the class.
 (c) He ran to school.
 (d) He jumped into the river.
 (e) The snake crawled into its hole.

3. On is often used in speaking of things at rest; and upon for the things in motion. For example :

- (a) He sat on a chair.
 (b) The cat sprang upon the table.

4. Till is used of time and to is used for place.

For example :

- (a) He slept till eight o'clock.
 (b) He walked to the end of the street.

5. With often denotes the instrument and by the agent. For example :

- (a) He killed two birds with one shot.
 (b) He was stabbed by a lunatic with a dagger.

6. Since is used before a noun or phrase denoting some point of time and is preceded by a verb in the perfect tense.

For example :

- (a) I have eaten nothing since yesterday.
 (b) He has been ill since Monday last.

From is also used before a noun or phrase denoting some point of time but is used with non-perfect tense.

For example :

- (a) I commenced work from 1st January.
 (b) He will join school from tomorrow.

For is used with a period of time. For example :

- (a) He has been ill for five days.
 (b) He lived in Bombay for five years.

7. Use of in before a period of time means at the end of period, but use of within before a period of time means before the end of period.

For example :

- (a) I shall return in an hour. (means I shall return at the end of an hour).
 (b) I shall return within an hour. (means I shall return before the end of an hour).

8. Scarcely should be followed by 'when' and not by 'but'. For example : Scarcely had he gone, when (not than) a policeman knocked at the door.

9. The phrase 'seldom or ever' is wrong 'Seldom or never' is right. For example : Such goods are made for export, and are seldom or never used in this country.

10. Examine the following sentence:

- (a) This is as good, if not better than that. (Incorrect)
 (b) This is as good as, if not better than, that. (Correct)
 (c) This is as good as that, if not better. (Correct)

11. Beside means at the side of while besides means in addition to. For example :

- (a) Beside the ungathered rice he lay.
 (b) Besides being fined, he was sentenced to a term of imprisonment.

12. Above and below merely denote position while over and under also carry a sense of covering or movement.

- (a) The bird flew above the lake. (Incorrect)
 (b) The bird flew over the lake. (Correct)

Here over is used as besides denoting upward position, movement is also involved.

13. During is used when reference is made to the time within which something happens. For is used when we are talking about how long something lasts.

- (a) There are few incidents of irregularity for the emergency years. (Incorrect)
 (b) There are few incidents of irregularity during the emergency years. (Correct)

14. Compare is followed by to when it shows that two things are alike. It is followed by with when we look at the ways in which two things are like and unlike each other.

For example :

- (a) Sanath Jayasuria's bowling may be compared to the sales of a useful book, they score right from the beginning. (Incorrect)
- (b) Sanath Jayasuria's batting may be compared with the sales of a useful book; they score right from the beginning. (Correct)
- (c) If we compare Delhi University with the regional ones, we find the former to be much more efficient. (Incorrect)
- (d) If we compare Delhi University to the regional ones, we find the former to be much more efficient. (Correct)

CONJUNCTIONS

1. Since as conjunction means:

- (A) From and after the time when.

For example :

- (a) Many things have happened since I left the school.
- (b) I have never seen him since that unfortunate event happened.

- (B) Seeing that,

For example :

- (a) Since you wish it, it shall be done.
- (b) Since that is the case, I shall excuse you.

2. Or is used

- (A) To introduce an alternative.

For example :

- (a) You must work or starve.
- (b) You may take this book or that one.
- (c) He may study law or medicine or engineering or he may enter into trade.

- (B) To introduce an alternative name or synonym.

For example : The violin or fiddle has become the leading instrument of the modern orchestra.

- (C) To mean otherwise.

For example : We must hasten or night will overtake us.

3. If is used to mean:

- (A) On the condition or supposition that.

For example :

- (a) If he is here, I shall see him.
- (b) If that is so, I am content.

- (B) Admitting that.

For example : If I am blunt, I am at least honest.

- (C) Whether.

For example : I asked him if he would help me.

- (D) Whenever.

For example : If I feel any doubt I enquire.

4. That is used:

- (A) To express a reason or cause.

For example :

- (a) Not that I loved Caesar less but that I loved Rome more.
- (b) He was annoyed that he was contradicted.

- (B) To express a purpose and is equivalent to in order that.

For example : He kept quiet that the dispute might cease.

- (C) To express a consequence, result or effect.

For example : He bled so profusely that he died.

5. Lest is used to express a negative purpose and is equivalent to 'in order that... not', 'for fear that'.

For example :

- (a) He lied lest he should be killed.
- (b) I was alarmed lest we should be wrecked.

6. While is used to mean:

- (A) During that time, as long as.

For example : while there is life there is hope.

- (B) At the same time that.

For example : While he found fault, he also praised.

7. Only means except that, but, were it not that.

For example :

- (a) A very pretty woman, only she squints a little.
- (b) The day is pleasant, only rather cold.

8. The conjunctions after, before, as soon as, until are not followed by clause in the future tense. Present simple or present perfect tense is used to express a future event.

For example :

- (a) I will phone you after I arrive here.
- (b) I will phone you after I have arrived here.

9. As if used in the sense of as it would be is generally followed by a subject + were + complement.

For example :

- (a) He loves you as if you were his own child.
- (b) Sometimes she weeps and sometimes she laughs as if she were mad.

10. The clause that begins with as if should be put into the past simple tense, if the preceding clause expresses a past action. But if it expresses a past action it should be followed by the past perfect tense.

For example :

- (a) He behaves as if he were a lord.
- (b) He behaved as if he had been a lord.

11. While as long as is used to express time in sense of how long, until is used to express time in sense of before.

For example :

- (a) Until you work hard you will improve. (Incorrect)
- (b) As long as you work hard you will improve. (Correct)
- (c) He learnt little as long as he was 15 years old. (Incorrect)
- (d) He learnt little until he was 15 years old. (Correct)

12. No sooner should be followed by (verb + subject) and then should begin another clause.

For example :

- (a) No sooner had I reached the station than the train left.
- (b) No sooner did the bell ring than all the students rushed in.

13. When as well as is used, finite verb should agree in number and person with the first subject.

For example : He as well as us is innocent.

14. As well as should never be used in place of and if the first subject is preceded by the word 'both'.

For example :

- (a) Both Rani as well as Kajol came. (Incorrect)
- (b) Both Rani and Kajol came. (Correct)

15. Because is generally used when the reason is the most important part of a sentence.

For example : Some people like him because he is honest and hard working.

Since is used when the reason is already known or is less important than the chief statement.

For example : Since you refuse to cooperate, I shall have to take legal steps.

For is used when reason given is an afterthought.

For example : The servant must have opened the box, for no one else had the key. For never comes at the beginning of the sentence and for is always preceded by a comma.

16. Scarcely should be followed by when and not by than,
 (a) Scarcely had he arrived than he had to leave again. (Incorrect)
 (b) Scarcely had he arrived when he had to leave again. (Correct)

17. Conjunctions such as either... or, neither... nor, not only... but also, both... and, whether, or etc. always join two words or phrases belonging to the same parts of speech.

For example :

- (a) Either he will ask me or you. (Incorrect)
 (b) He will ask either me or you. (Correct)
 (c) Neither he reads nor writes English (Incorrect)
 (d) He neither reads nor writes English. (Correct)
 (e) Either you shall have to go home or stay here. (Incorrect)
 (f) You shall have either to go home or stay here. (Correct)
18. Conjunctions like neither...nor, either..or, should be followed by the same part of speech.

For example :

- (a) He neither agreed to my proposal nor to his. (Incorrect)
 (b) He agreed neither to my proposal nor to his. (Correct)
19. Conjunction is not used before an interrogative adverb or interrogative pronoun in the indirect narration.

For example :

- (a) He asked me that where I stayed. (Incorrect)
 (b) He asked me where I stayed. (Correct)
20. Although goes with yet or a comma in the other clause.

For example :

- (a) Although Manohar is hardworking but he does not get a job. (Incorrect)
 (b) Although Manohar is hard working, yet he does not get a job. (Correct)

21. Nothing else should be followed by but not by than,

For example :

- (a) Mr. Bureaucrat! This is nothing else than red-tapism. (Incorrect)
 (b) Mr. Bureaucrat! This is nothing else but red-tapism. (Correct)

22. The correlative conjunctions indeed... but are used to emphasise the contrast between the first and the second parts of the statement.

For example :

- (a) I am indeed happy with my school but it produces famous men. (Incorrect)
 (b) I am indeed happy with my school but it does not produce famous men. (Correct)
 (c) I am indeed happy with my school that it produces famous men. (Correct)

23. In a "not only ... but also..." sentence, the verb should agree with the noun or pronoun mentioned second, that is; the one after 'but also', because this is the part being emphasised.

For example :

- (a) Not only the students but also the teacher were responsible for what happened in the class. (Incorrect)
 (b) Not only the students but also the teacher was responsible for what happened in the class. (Correct)
24. Such ... as is used to denote a category whereas such ...that emphasises the degree of something by mentioning its consequence.

For example :

- (a) Each member of the alliance agrees to take such action that it deems necessary. (Incorrect)
 (b) Each member of the alliance agrees to take such action as it deems necessary. (Correct)

Here "it seems necessary" is not a consequence of "such action". The sentence wants to imply that the action belongs to the category "as it deems necessary". In other words, what kind of action? Such action as it deems necessary.

- (a) She looked at him in such distress as he had to look away. (Incorrect)
 (b) She looked at him in such distress that he had to look away. (Correct)

Here, "he had to look away" is a consequence of "she looked at him in such distress." In other words, the degree of the distress of looking at him was such that (not as) he had to look away.

PHRASAL VERBS

Phrasal Verbs are a particular kind of expression, wherein the verb is made of two or more components. Mostly the combining components are verbs and prepositions. When divided these components will have a meaning of their own but would not suggest anything about the meaning of the phrasal verb.

Consider the following sentences.

- (a) This sword has been handed down from father to son in the family for many generations.
 (b) I have been looking forward to meeting you since long now.
 (c) The patient came out of the delirium only when given tranquilizers.
 (d) We had almost decided to give up on the search when we made the discovery.

Phrasal verbs are idiomatic expressions and have a particular meaning different from that of the combining verbs and prepositions. Following are some phrasal verbs with their meanings.

- | | | |
|-----|------------|--|
| (a) | sit in | : to attend or take part as a visitor |
| (b) | sit out | : to stay till the end of |
| (c) | come round | : to accept circumstances and adjust yourself to them. |
| (d) | get on | : to manage one's life |
| (e) | turn out | : to have a particular result |
| (f) | turn up | : to arrive unexpectedly |

- Please, fill in all the necessary information in this form.
- I am sure you will not let me down, I've full faith in your capabilities.
- Why are you taking it out on me? I'm not the one responsible for the mishap.

QUESTION TAGS

Consider the following examples:

- (1) You wanted that, didn't you?
- (2) He is coming tonight, isn't he?
- (3) You wouldn't report me, would you?

Now, look at the last part of all the above sentences preceded by the comma. These are very small questions added to the sentence and are called question Tags. Remember only the question tag is a question and not the entire sentence. So, one can say that a Question Tag is an added brief question to a statement. Usually a question tag consists of two words—an auxiliary verb in the positive or negative form and a pronoun.

How to form question tags?

Three things are to be kept in mind while making a question tag :

- (a) The right auxiliary verb to be used in the question.
- (b) The right pronouns to be used in the tag.
Both (a) and (b) should be in agreement with the verb and noun in the main statement.
- (c) Whether the verb in the question tag should be positive or negative.

Rules to form Question Tags

- I. If the main statement is positive, the auxiliary verb will be negative and vice-versa e.g.,
 - He saw that, didn't he?
 - But he isn't going to England, is he?
- II. If there is a single subject/noun/pronoun in the main sentence, the corresponding pronoun/same pronoun will be used in the question tag. e.g.,
 - You are coming with us, aren't you?
 - Reena is leaving tonight, isn't she?
- III. If there are more than one noun/pronoun in the main sentence then the corresponding pronoun to the active subject will be used in the question tag. e.g.,
 - After all this time you'd think he'd have forgotten, wouldn't you?
 - You wouldn't refuse me, would you?

- IV If the verb in the main sentence is an active verb without any auxiliary verb, then the verb used in the question tag will be the form of verb 'do' that corresponds with the tense in the main sentence.

- He knows it's true, doesn't he?
- You wanted to come with me, didn't you?
- I told you so, didn't I?
- She never informed us, did she?

- V If the main sentence has an auxiliary then it is used in the question tag, but with opposite affirmation, i.e., a positive auxiliary in the main sentence transforms to a negative auxiliary in the question tag and vice-versa e.g.,

- He will be coming, won't he?
- You were there at the party, weren't you?
- You would appear for this exam, wouldn't you?
- He didn't call us, did he?
- She doesn't live here anymore, does she?

MODALS

The verbs like can, could, may, might, would, shall, should and ought are called modal verbs or modals. They are used with ordinary verbs to express possibility, permission, certainly, etc.

- (1) Can usually expresses ability or capacity
I can swim across the river
Can you lift this table?
- (2) Can is also used to express permission
You can go now.
- (3) May is a more formal modal used to express permission:
You may come in.
May I leave the room now?
- (4) May is also used to suggest possibility in an affirmative sentence.
He may be at home.
It may rain tomorrow.
- (5) Can is used to suggest possibility in negative/interrogative sentence.
Can this be true?
It cannot be so.
- (6) May when used in a negative sentence suggests an improbability whereas can suggests impossibility.
He may not come today.
She cannot sing.
- (7) Could and might are used as past forms of 'can' and 'may'.
I could swim across the river when I was young.
I thought he might be at home.
- (8) Might suggests less possibility or probability than may.
I might go to Bangalore next week suggests the probability of going is less than a sentence with 'may' will suggest.
- (9) Could is used as a polite form of seeking permission or making a request.
Could you pass me the plate?
Could I please talk to Mr. Grover?
- (10) Shall is used with first person and will in all the persons to express future.
I shall need the money tomorrow.
When will you come next?
- (11) Shall is used with the second and third person to express command, promise or threat.
You shall never come near my child.
You shall be punished for this.
We shall go for a picnic this Sunday.

- (12) Will You? indicates an invitation or request.
Will you dine with us tonight?
Will you lend me your car for a week?
- (13) Should and would are used as past forms of shall and will.
I expected that I would get a first class.
She would sit for hours listening to the radio.
- (14) Should is used to express duty or obligation.
We should obey the laws.
You should keep your promise.
- (15) Should is used to express a supposition
If it should rain, they will not come.
- (16) Should can also be used to express probability.
He should be in the library.
- (17) Must is used to express necessity.
You must improve your spelling.
- (18) Must is also need to express obligation, and is a stronger word than should.
We must follow the law.
- (19) Must is also used to express logical certainty.
Living alone in such a big city must be difficult.
- (20) Ought is used to express moral obligation and is stronger than both should and must.
We ought to love our parents.
- (21) Ought is also used to express probability sometime when the probability is very strong.
The book ought to be very useful.

VOICE TRANSFORMATION

Compare the following sentences

- Ram helps Hari.
- Hari is helped by Ram.

While both sentences express the same meaning, there is a difference in their construction, the difference of voice.

In sentence I, the subject Ram is the doer of the action and thus it is in Active voice, the verb is in the Active Voice.

In sentence II, the subject is Hari to whom the action is done and thus the verb is in the Passive Voice.

Following are some examples of active and passive voice sentences

	Active Voice	Passive Voice
→	The peon opened the gate.	The gate was opened by the peon.
→	Some boys were helping the old man.	The old man was being helped by some boys.
→	He will finish the work in a fortnight.	The work will be finished by him in a fortnight.
→	Why did your brother write such a letter?	Why was such a letter written by your brother ?
→	He handed her a chair.	A chair was handed to her by him.

Following are the rules for transformation of voice.

Tense	Active voice	Passive Voice
Simple present	take/takes	is/am/are taken
Present continuous	is/am/are taking	is/am/are being taken
Present perfect	has/have taken	has/have been taken
Simple past	took	was/were taken
Past continuous	was/were taking	was/were being taken
Past perfect	had taken	had been taken
Simple future	will/shall take	will/s shall be taken

→ When changing a passive voice sentence to an Active voice sentence if the agent is absent in the given sentence you can use any vague agents such as someone, they, people etc. e.g.,

- My pen has been stolen. (Passive)
- Someone has stolen my pen. (Active)
- I was asked my name. (Passive)
- They asked me my name. (Active)
- English is spoken all over the world. (Passive)
- People speak English all over the world. (Active)

Exercise

Change the voice in the following sentences.

- I lost my watch.
- How the castle received its name is told to us by the legends.
- Babu was elected captain by us.

POINTS TO REMEMBER

1. Abstract Noun: Abstract noun refers to quality, action or state of a thing that can only be felt by us.
For example: Laughter, greatness, faith, poverty, courage, kindness, fear, bravery, childhood etc. Abstract noun is always uncountable and has no plural form.
2. Accusative Case: See Objective case.
3. Active Voice: A verb is in the active voice when its form shows that the person or thing denoted by the subject does something or, in other words, is doer of the action.
4. Adjectives: A word that names an attribute, used to describe a noun or pronoun.
For example:
A small house.
A big mansion.
Adjective is used with the noun to describe or point out the person, animal, place or thing the noun names, or to tell the number or quantity.
5. Adverbs: Adverb is a word that modifies the meaning of a verb, an adjective or another adverb.
For example :
(a) P. T. Usha runs fast.
(b) Govinda reads quite clearly.
6. Antecedent: Antecedent is a noun or noun-equivalent to which a relative pronoun refers.
For example : The cloud that thunders does not rain. 'Cloud' is antecedent in the sentence.
7. Apposition: When one noun follows another to describe it, the noun which follows is said to be in apposition to the noun which comes before it.
For example : In the sentence, Stephen Hawking, the scientist, has written A Brief History of Time, the noun scientist is in apposition to the noun Stephen Hawking.
8. Case: The use of different forms of a noun or pronoun to show its relation to the remaining sentence is called case. Three different types of cases are Nominative case, Objective or Accusative case and Possessive or Genitive case.
9. Collective Noun: Collective noun refers to a group of similar persons or things. Though collective noun refers to more than one thing, it is always singular in form.
For example : Army, Family, Herd, and Committee.
10. Common Noun. Common noun is a name that can be applied to all the members of a class. In other words it refers to all the persons and things of the same kind. Like proper noun it does not refer to a particular—person or thing.
For example : man, woman, elephant, village, crowd, army, family, nation.
11. Complement: Complement of the verb is the word or words which are used to make the sense of, the sentence complete.
For example :
(a) They made him.
(b) They made him king.
Sentence (a) carries no complete sense or meaning. But when the word king is added to it, the sentence becomes sensible. So, here king is the complement.
12. Concrete Noun: Concrete noun is the opposite of abstract noun. Concrete noun refers to a thing that can be identified or sensed by our senses.
For example : House, Brick, Telephone, Rose.
13. Countable Noun: As the name suggests, a countable noun is one that can be counted.
For example : ten girls, 25 rupees. Depending upon how the plural form of a countable noun is obtained, countable noun can be categorised as Regular countable noun and Irregular countable noun.
14. First Person: First person denotes the person or persons speaking.
First Person (Masculine or Feminine)

Case	Singular	Plural
Nominative	I	We
Possessive	My, mine	Our, ours
Objective	Me	Us
15. Intransitive Verb: When a verb is so used in a sentence that its effect is limited to its subject or doer only, it is called intransitive.
For example : Compare these two sentences.
(a) This boy is eating.
(b) This boy is eating mango.
In sentence (a) the effect of eating is limited to subject, boy only. But in sentence (b) the effect of eating passes from subject (boy) to an object (mango). If we get an answer to 'who eats what?' Mango, then it is transitive verb. Hence sentence (a) uses intransitive verb and sentence (b) falls into transitive verb category.
16. Irregular Countable Noun: Plural form of these countable nouns is not obtained by adding 's', 'es' or 'ies' after the word.
For example : plural of person is people, tooth is teeth.
17. Nominative Case: Here noun or pronoun is used as the subject of a verb. To find the nominative put who or what before the verb.
18. Noun: A noun is a word used as the name of a person, place, thing or idea. A noun can be a common noun or a proper noun, an abstract noun or a concrete noun, a countable noun or non-countable noun and a collective noun.
19. Object: Also called Predicate. The part which tells something about the subject is called object.
20. Objective Case: Also called Accusative Case. Here noun or pronoun is used as the object of the verb. To find the objective case put whom? or what? before the verb and its subject.
21. Passive Voice: A verb is in the passive form when its form shows that something is done to the person or thing denoted by the subject.
22. Personal Pronoun: Personal pronoun refers to an individual or Individuals. Personal pronouns are of three different types—First person, Second person and Third person.

23. Possessive Case: In this form of the noun, ownership or possession is shown. Possessive case is also used to denote ownerships, origin, kind etc. The possessive case: answers the question 'whose?'
24. Predicate : Please see object.
25. Preposition: A preposition is a word placed before a noun or pronoun to show in what relation the person or thing denoted by it stands in regard to something else.
26. Pronoun: A pronoun is a word used instead of a noun. Pronouns are classified as personal, relative, reflexive, demonstrative, indefinite, interrogative, reciprocal pronoun.
27. Proper Noun: Unlike common noun, proper noun refers to a particular member of class. Proper noun is the name of some particular person or thing. Proper nouns are always written with a capital letter at the beginning. For example : names of all people, places.
28. Regular Countable Noun: Plural form of these words is obtained by adding 's', 'es' or converting 'y' to 'ies' after the word. For example : plural form of book is books, city is cities.
29. Relative Pronoun: Relative pronoun refers or relates two clauses. Relative pronoun refers to some noun which is called its antecedent.
For example : I met Hari who has just returned.
30. Second Person.: Second person denotes the person or persons spoken to.

Second Person(Masculine or Feminine)

Case	Singular	Plural
Nominative	You	You
Possessive	Your, yours	Your, yours
Objective	You	You

31. Sentence: Sentence is a group of words which makes complete sense. In a sentence we name some person or thing and say something about that person or thing.

32. Subject: The part which names the person or thing we are speaking about is called subject of the sentence.
33. Third Person: Third person denotes the person or persons spoken of Third Person.

Case	Singular	Plural
	Masculine	Feminine	Neuter	All Genders
Nominative	He	She	It	They
Possessive	His	Her, hers	Its	They, their
Objective	Him	Her	It	Them

34. Transitive Verb: When an action/word or verb is so used in a sentence that its effect is not limited to its subject only but passes to another person or thing, it is called Transitive verb.
For example : A boy is eating a mango. For details kindly see definition of Intransitive Verb.
35. Uncountable Noun: Unlike countable nouns it can not be counted.
For example : Water, Milk, Sand, News, information. But if an uncountable thing is placed in a thing that can be counted, then the uncountable noun can be counted.
For example : One bottle of milk. Uncountable nouns can never be plural, though some uncountable nouns may appear to be plurals.
For example : News
36. Voice: Voice is that form of a verb which shows whether what is denoted by the subject does something or has something done to it.
For example :
(a) Rama helps Hari.
(b) Hari is helped by Rama.
In sentence (a), the form of the verb denotes that the person denoted by the subject, Rama, does something. In sentence (b) the form of the verb shows that something is done to the person denoted by the subject, Hari.

VOCABULARY

Every student at some time or the other +faces the question "How do I increase my vocabulary?" This is because, people who might otherwise be very fluent in spoken English do not really take care to use new words, since, for the purpose of communication, the current register of words is deemed enough. An unfortunate fallout of this nonchalant complacency is that when these people actually face questions examining their vocabulary and its extent, they are all at sea. An easy example will bear this out. Everyone knows that when we are asked to name the tip of a mountain or the highest point of something, we use the word 'peak'. But not everyone would know that words like zenith, apogee, crest and summit may be replacements for the same word. So the same meaning used in the form of another word might leave the student totally perplexed. Therefore, it is important to start working on one's vocabulary as soon as possible for success in any competitive exam. Given below are a few tips on the accepted methods and practices used to improve one's vocabulary:

- (a) The practice of reading - This is, sadly, lacking in most aspirants. With the advent of Television, reading has almost become passe. Reading is important not just because it increases general knowledge. That it definitely does; in addition it helps a student to get into the habit of reading. It is also important to read a variety of subjects, because each subject has its own register of language and words are used with differing connotations in each register. So, for success in competitive exams, perusal of a few different sources of reading material is mandatory. The sources are:
 - 1) General magazines e.g., India Today, Frontline, Outlook, Reader's Digest, Time, etc.
 - 2) Business magazines e.g., Business Today, Business India, Business World, etc.
 - 3) The Daily Newspaper e.g., The Times of India, The Hindu, The Indian Express, etc.
- (b) Using a dictionary-the almost-extinct habit - Even though the idea of using a dictionary does nothing to enthruse the common student, every one owns a dictionary but treats it like a sacred cow, not to be touched and defiled; of course, not that they are to be blamed too much for it; it is almost a habit now; but should be considered a necessary evil. A dictionary should be kept with the student while reading anything, so that an incomprehensible word can be looked up immediately. Prefer a standard dictionary which explains the different use of a same word.
- (c) Self-help books - Quite a few self-help books claiming to improve Verbal Ability are to be found in the open market, and one or two are actually helpful in this regard. Students are welcome to consult these books but are advised to do so after consulting discriminating people who have experience in this regard e.g., experienced English teachers or the English faculty, since they have better idea of the relative efficacy of these books.
- (d) Thesaurus-the viable alternative - If using a dictionary seems to be too boring to be considered for any length of time, using a thesaurus may be a more interesting alternative. In theory, it is the reverse of a dictionary, and basically gives the various synonyms and the types of usage of a word e.g., as a verb, adjective, noun etc.. So it gives a lot of information about each word. If the student can remember even some of it, it will be a great advantage. The most commonly available thesaurus in the market is the Roget's Thesaurus, usually now used as a generic name by most publishers.
- (e) The Word List - The Word List is a comprehensive compendium of the words most commonly asked or used in the Management Examination question papers. Studying the Word List will also give the student a lot of information about the origin of various words, their roots etc. This is a particularly useful method of studying because knowledge of etymology helps the student gauge the meaning and usage of other words having the same roots, regardless of whether the student has come across the word earlier or not.
- (f) Flip-Cards - We strongly advocate this technique which is another tool to memorise words from the list. These are blank cards approximately double the size of your standard visiting card. After isolation of the exceptionally difficult words from the Word List, the student should write approximately five words on one side of the card and the corresponding meanings on the other. The advantages of using this type of tool are that (1) Cards are portable and the student can carry a card around with him/her any where and glance at it anytime. (2) The embarrassment factor which carrying a Word List around entails is absent here, and (3) At the time of the final run-up to the examination, the student, instead of revising the whole Word List, can just go through the set of Flip Cards that he or she has collected. The only problem is getting started and, to mix metaphors, once that initial hurdle is overcome the rest is smooth sailing!
- (g) Gauging meanings - This logically follows from the earlier method. It is advisable for the student to try and gauge the meaning of a word from the context of the sentence. This is an extremely effective method and very frequently, it is possible to find out the meaning of a newly seen word just by reading the whole sentence and getting the meaning of the sentence as a whole. e.g., in the sentence 'All of us tried our best to persuade him but he remained adamant'. Even if a student does not know the meaning of the word adamant per se, it is still possible to gauge the meaning from the context of the sentence i.e., unmoved, firm, intractable, etc. It should be kept in mind by the students that none of the above methods are absolute in themselves. It is a combination of all these, or at least some of these, which will give one the best results.

- (c) is
The simple present is used to express general truths.
- (d) it's
A collective noun takes a singular verb when the collection is thought of as one whole; a plural verb when the individuals of which it is composed are thought of, as, The Committee has issued its report. The Committee are divided on one minor point.

14. (c) but milder than
'Than' (her used as a preposition) shows the relation between this year and last year's attack. It is more appropriate than 'as' which generally shows the relation between two similar things.
15. (d) that
The use of the conjunction 'that', to introduce the adverb clause of reason or cause, is more apt here as because means 'for the reason that'.
16. (c) The-adverb of time, 'never' and not the conjunction 'neither' is to be used. This is also done to never have the construction in the same series.
17. (d) was being dragged by the soldiers
All qualifying words, phrases and clauses should be placed as near as possible to the words to which they refer.
18. (d) them
The Accusative Case of the third person plural 'them' and not the Nominative 'they' is to be used as the other people are the object of the sentence.
19. (d) they were not to open
The infinitive 'to open': like a noun needs a subject which the verb 'were' fulfils.
20. (c) the members felt
The subject usually comes before the verb in a sentence. In English, owing to the fewness of the inflections, the order of the words in a sentence is of the first importance.

HINTS & EXPLANATIONS

1. (c) When the word 'except' is used 'me' is used with it instead of I, so the most appropriate form of this phrase will be except for you and me.
2. (a) 'Calculate' is not an appropriate word for this sentence, calculation is done on the basis of available facts with certain fixed rules, whereas according to the sense of the sentence the person is only making a guess or a supposition, thus reckon is the most appropriate word that can be used to replace calculate.
3. (a) 'him' is not the right usage because it is a possessive pronoun, and in the sentence it is followed by who, which is used to refer. So the pronoun he should be used. He, who has the best rapport with the students.
4. (d) Different is used with 'from' e.g. 'you are different from Ritu'. Than is used for comparisons, e.g., The world is more populated than it was in our time.
5. (d) When we use the word 'hardly', it implies a negative meaning, there is then no need to use not, so the most suitable use is 'he hardly had any friends'.
6. (c) The tense in this sentence should be the present perfect continuous because it refers to an action that started at some time in past and continues till the present time so right use is 'have been living in Mumbai.'
7. (a) As a child, should be followed by a phrase that has 'child' as its subject, i.e., as a child I was taken by my parents to visit Jammu & Kashmir or other ways, we can change the first part of the sentence, the second part describes an action so the first should be an adverb clause. Thus when I was child is the most suitable alternative.
8. (a) 'Anyone' implies a person involved. So a personal pronoun will be needed to give conditions later in the sentence, there must be a 'he' or 'one' in the sentence. The noun cannot be in the second person but has to be in the third person because 'Anyone' refers to an unknown third person.
9. (c) The use of the modal 'should' is unnecessary in this statement. It is a statement giving directions.
10. (c) The part he, his colleague could easily be eliminated and a simpler form of to + verb can be used to make the sentence more appropriate (a) is grammatically incorrect since it has omitted the article 'an' (b) changes the meaning or intent of the underlined phrase. Thus (c) is the most suitable choice.
11. (c) The first part of the sentence uses the auxiliary verb 'does', since the second part of the sentence is an alternative to the first it must be in the same syntax so there must be the auxiliary verb 'does' in the second part as well.
12. (a) The comparison is between the careers of the two women and not a woman and the career of another women. The subject is absent from the sentence but if you complete the sentence you will find it should be- she wished that her career was as glamorous as the other woman's career. In sentences such as these where the noun is hidden, it is helpful to complete the noun to find the correct answer.
13. (d) Liable to means, it is an event that will happen. This is the only phrase which would fit in with the sense of the rest of the sentence. So there will be no change.
14. (b) would is a modal and its use here is unnecessary. There is a 'would have' in the second part of the sentence but it should not be repeated in the first one, because the use of 'would have' is done as a possibility of an affect of something done in past. So generally would have will be followed by a past perfect verb.
15. (c) The first part of the sentence is directed at a subject, which is 'eaten in portugal only', i.e., the potato, therefore the comma should be followed by a phrase with potato as its subject and not Indians. Of (c) & (d), (c) is the right option because 'suspicious to Indian' is not an appropriate usage.
16. (d) The comparative degree for verb 'fast' is 'faster' and there is no need to add more to it.
17. (c) The modal 'should' need not be repeated since the conjunction 'and' is being used. The should in the sentence will be used for both the parts.
18. (b) 'in' is the correct preposition to be used with the verb circulated.
19. (c) 'craziness' is no word, the right noun is craze. If that is maddening is chosen it will be follwed by 'that is responsible' which will not be appropriate 'mad craze' is the correct use, and this craze is not for the noun 'speed' but the verb 'speeding', i.e., driving vehicles at high speed.
20. (c) Co-operate has an implicit meaning of together. It means 'work together', so together must be eliminated. Similarly 'dividing' means 'breaking up' so 'up' from 'dividing' must also be eliminated.
21. (a) 'building' is a verb used usually with 'relations and not links, 'links' are simply made or created.
22. (a) The errors in the underlined part of the sentence are 'at summers' which should be 'in summer'; 'during winter' should be 'in winter', keeping the system an

- both parts same. Also the use of the infinitive, i.e., to + verb form is more appropriate in this sentence – 'to provide' in place of 'for providing'.
23. (b) 'lending' is done 'to' and not 'for', so lending credibility to.
24. (c) The second part of the sentence is an action taken as a result of an incident, so the first part of the sentence must give the incident and use the word 'since'. (b) is not the right option because it will make the first part active voice and second passive voice which must not happen. Similarity of voice should be maintained in the sentence.
25. (b) The subject is missing from the sentence so first the subject 'I' should be included. Since an experience is being related to the tense of verb will be past so 'find' cannot be right, thus (d) is eliminated. Whatever phrase follows the subject Taj Mahal will act as the adjective attached to the verb 'found', the remaining expression will then become only supportive or additional information. That is in (b) I found the Taj Mahal truly impressive is the chief part of the sentence and in the moonlight is additional information, without which also the sentence makes sense. In (c) I found the Taj Mahal in moonlight will be the chief sentence which is not the appropriate usage.
26. (a) There is no error in the underlined part.
190. (c) Here we compare the climate of Karnataka with the climate of Tamil Nadu and not with the Tamil Nadu itself; hence we use 'than that of'.
191. (a) If someone suffers from an unpleasant or difficult experience or situation, then we use 'suffer from.' Ex: Shiela is suffering from ill health. Lately factories are suffering from a desperate shortage of labours.
192. (a) The correct arrangement of sentence is - I gave Sana the keys.
193. (a) When you are using if to talk about something that is unlikely to happen or is impossible, use the past tense in the if-clause, not present. Ex: If someone gave me (NOT gives or would give me) the money, I'd buy a car tomorrow.
194. (c) 'He compensated me for the loss.' is the correct answer.
195. (b) The proposition 'to' is complementary with accountable.
196. (a) Recently denotes not long ago and thus usually takes perfect tense.
197. (c) Present tense shows what exits or happening now. It also denotes a habit which in this case is the timing of having lunch.
198. (a) Here 'agriculturally' is the adverb that adds to the meaning of the adjective 'strong'. Other examples are 'slowly' in 'He ran slowly', 'very' in 'It's very hot', or 'naturally' in 'Naturally, we want you to come.'
199. (b) Superior always takes preposition 'to'. Ex: Your computer is far superior to mine.
200. (a) Would have had to attend
201. (c) ascent which
202. (a) as much as they possibly could
203. (b) Alternative should be 'Loyalty'
204. (c) at
205. (a) The sentence requires an improvement. The underlined portion must be rectified to 'you despair of the success of your undertaking'.
206. (d) The statement requires no improvement. The underlined portion of the statement suits best with the meaning of the statement.
207. (c) The underlined portion of the statement requires an improvement. It may be rectified as 'here is something pretty that Vinita can wear to the party'.
208. (a) The underlined portion requires an improvement. It may be rectified as 'of owning'. So, the sentence will be as 'I have dreamt all my life of owning a beautiful maroon coloured car'.
209. (a) The underlined portion in the sentence requires an improvement. It may be rectified as 'he watched the sun go down'. So, the sentence will be 'sitting on the top of the hill he watched the sun go down'.
210. (b) The underlined portion of the sentence has to be rectified. 'Soon to' may be replaced with 'about to'. So, the sentence will be as 'the office is about to close'.
211. (a) The underlined portion of the sentence needs to be rectified. It may be replaced with 'out of the way'. So, the sentence will be as 'He has achieved nothing out of the way worth mentioning'.
212. (c) 'On' may be replaced with 'upon'. So, the sentence will be as 'I prevailed upon him to vote for you'.
213. (b) The underlined portion may be replaced with 'the student made studying his top priority'. So, the sentence will be as 'Eager to pass his final exams the student made studying his top priority'.
214. (c) The underlined portion in the sentence may be replaced with 'unless he is invited'. So, the sentence will be as 'Mr.Dev will not go to the wedding reception unless he is invited'.
215. (b) He will revise it on coming back.
216. (b) The members of the student's union did not sit for the examination in protest.
217. (d) She was kept from her assignment because of her loquacious roommate.
218. (d) James epitomises everything that a teacher should be. Epitomises means to personify, typify the traits/ characteristics.

HINTS & EXPLANATIONS

5. (c) than one's speed
Here 'than', used as a preposition, as;
I need more than fifty rupees for this magazine.
8. (c) laid off
The past tense of the noun 'lay - of' ('which means a temporary or permanent discharge of workers / a redundancy is to be used).
9. (a) such a
Such is used as an adjective here.
13. (b) would not have been misunderstood.
17. (c) sees
The simple present is used to indicate future events.
19. (c) When he ran across the road
The past tense is needed here as the sentence indicates.
182. (d) drawn to
Certain Verbs, Nouns, Adjectives, and Participles are always followed by certain Prepositions.
183. (c) Though
The subordinating conjunction 'though' here clarifies the concessional tone of the sentence.
For e.g. — I will not see him, though he comes.
Though is generally followed by yet in most cases. The pair 'Though———Yet' forms a Correlative Conjunction.
Though he scolds me, yet I respect him.
184. (d) were
The Past Subjunctive 'were' is used after the verb wish, to indicate a situation, which is contrary to fact or unreal; as in, I wish I were a millionaire.
187. (b) two strings to his bow
This is an idiomatic expression.
226. (b) The———about
The article 'the' is used as an adverb with comparatives; as,
The more the merrier.
The more they get, the more they want.
227. (b) swum
The Past Participle "swum" is to be used and not the past tense "swam".
The Past Participle represents a completed action or state of the thing spoken of.
228. (a) at——in——at
In is used with names of countries and large towns, at is more often used when speaking of small towns and villages.
229. (b) The sentence gives a condition, so the principle clause will use 'would' not 'will'.
230. (b) Since there is a comparison between two, a comparative degree verb must be used.
231. (c) Since the numbers are more than two, neither cannot be used, either is positive so will oppose the meaning of the sentence and 'no one' is used for persons not things.
232. (b) In the perfect continuous tense only 'for' and 'since' are used. 'Since' is used to suggest a particular time in past and 'for' is used to suggest a time period, 'a long time' suggest a time period so 'for' will be the answer.
233. (b) 'With' is used with overwhelmed
234. (c) Article 'the' preceeds the superlative degree i.e., the 'est' form.
235. (b) Preposition 'about' is used before the word 'prohibition'.
236. (a) Gravity is the singular subject which will have the present indefinite verb i.e., verb + s/es form.
237. (b) Since a comparison is being made there must be a subject in both parts of sentence divided by than. There must be 'that' in the second part therefore, (d) is incorrect because of incorrect usage of article 'the'.
238. (b) There is no need for 'who' or 'which' (both of which are incorrect 'whom' will be the right pronoun) the clause follows the subject 'person' directly and need not be connected through a pronoun.
239. (d) It is a passive voice sentence and the phrase before 'that' should be a complete passive form of verb and not a gerund.
240. (b) This will be the right preposition.
241. (d) Firms are countable noun so 'many' is the determiner that should be used with it 'great deal' is used mostly with abstract nouns and 'amount' with either money or substances that are weighed.
242. (d) 'of' is the preposition used with frightened.
243. (c) Capitalist society is the singular subject and the statement made is a dictum, so present infinitive tense will be used.
244. (b) 'Although' is used when there is disagreement between the two parts of the sentence which should have logically followed each other. Although and still are often used together, to this can be used as an easy hint to find the answer.
245. (a) The use of the word here is as a 'noun' not as a verb thus damage will be the right answer.
Tips : A sentence of form this can cause, will always be followed by a noun.
247. (d) The right expression is 'conditions necessary for', since the gap is followed by, this. 'complete' should be used in the noun form and not adjective so it will be 'completion of this'.

248. (a) It is a simple comparison between dancers and actors and the word 'like' is appropriate. 'same as' is not used because the correct usage will be 'the same as'.
249. (b) The right use is as + adjective + as
250. (a) There cannot be a subject in the first part of the sentence as the same subject is given on the second part so (c) and (d) are eliminated. To study is the infinitive verb which will not be used here, because it suggests the action which is the affect and not the cause. e.g., 'To gain something you have to lose something else'.
By studying is the right answer because this gives the cause for the verb in the latter part of the sentence.
251. (b) The right usage is 'comes to mind'.
252. (b) In the given sentence there is no subject or verb, so the added phrase should be of the form subject + infinitive verb.
253. (b) The right impression is 'fond of'.
254. (c) Modals such as must or should cannot be used with 'hope'.
255. (a) There must be the preposition 'to' to connect the verb 'tend' with the noun 'result', (b) is not correct because first form of verb should be used and not continuous since its a simple statement made suggesting no action taking place at the current moment.
256. (b) The subject of the sentence is candidate, but in the first part there is no subject, it should be passive or have an active subject. (b) is the only option with passive verb.
257. (d) 'because' cannot be used as the conjunction in this sentence because for the sentence to be complete it should be followed by an 'of', i.e., because of their, since this is not the option 'of their' is the most appropriate use.
258. (b) Since is usually followed by a time expression ('last year', 'this morning', '4 o'clock' etc) or by a clause in the simple past tense. Use the present perfect or the past perfect in the other clause. Use for when you state the length of time that something has been or had been happening. Ex: We have known each other for ten years (NOT since ten years).
268. (a) The correct word that will fit the blank is 'impudence'. 'Impudence' means 'not to show the proper respect'. Hence, the word suits the meaning of the sentence.
269. (b) The correct word that will fit the blank is 'feeble'. 'Feeble' means 'weak'. Hence, the word suits the meaning of the sentence.
270. (a) The correct word that will fit the blank is 'retrieve'. 'Retrieve' means to 'get or bring back'. Hence, the word aptly suits the meaning of the sentence.
271. (c) The correct word that will fit the blank is 'over'. As it is given in the sentence, 'makeover' means to 'renew or renovate something'. Hence the preposition 'over' will suit the meaning of the sentence.
272. (c) The correct word that will fit the blank is 'augurs'. 'Augurs' means 'something that will proceed well'. Hence, the word suits the meaning of the sentence.
273. (b) China is a big country. In area it is bigger than any other country except Russia. [except means other than, accept means consent, expect means to anticipate and access means entrance].
274. (a) The masks worn by the men helped them conceal their identity. Conceal means hide.
275. (b) On the auspicious occasion of Laxmi puja, the Mathurs bought a new car.
276. (b) Precautions are to be taken with anyone who seems infectious. [infectious means likely to transmit or spread in a rapid manner. Contagious and diseased is not used in this context because they refers to already having infection].
277. (d) The treasure was hidden off the shore. When something is hidden "off the shore," it just means that it's hidden somewhere near it.

PASSAGE -6 (61 - 70)

Now-a-days, under the (61) system of education, however good it may be, when a young man comes out of the university, there seems to be this (62) in him that the higher the standard of living rises, the less should a man work. Thus, mathematically, higher the standard of living, according to this misconceived notion, the less the (63) ultimately, what? should be the highest standard of living then? (64) work ! This leads to an unhealthy (65) among the workers . A typist who types over twenty letters a day asks his (66) how many letters he had typed that day. The latter (67) " fifteen". PASSAGE - 9 (91 - 100)

All writers are vain, selfish and lazy, and at the very (91) of their motives there lies a mystery. Writing a book is a horrible, exhausting struggle, like a long (92) of some painful illness. One would never undertake such a thing if one were not (93) by some demon whom one can neither (94) nor understand. For all one knows that demon is simply the same (95) that makes a baby (96) for attention. And yet it is also true that one can write nothing readable unless one constantly struggles to (97) one's own personality. Good prose is like a window pane. I cannot say with certainty which of my motives are the strongest, but I know which of them deserve to be followed. And (98) through my work, I see that it is (99) where I lacked a political purpose that I wrote lifeless books and was (100) into purple passages, sentences without meaning, decorative adjectives and humbug generally.

PASSAGE - 13 (131 - 140)

Some people believe that marriages are made in heaven. One cannot say (131) this is true or not. However, in America now many (132) who get married seek to evolve a fool proof (133) to ensure that the marriage survives. However, the idea of married persons (134) the burden of domestic chores, instead of all the dirty work being dumped on the woman has (135) been propagated by the feminist (136) and it has gradually, if grudgingly, been (137) This arrangement may work on a temporary basis but taking (138) of a particular domestic work on a permanent basis will pose problems of its own. For instance, taking out the rubbish may (139) make a refreshing change from washing baby's nappies. However, a contract is a contract and must be (140) You may not like it but this is what life is coming out to be in the most modern of the countries in the world.

COMPREHENSION TEST

Reading Comprehension

Comprehension is the process of making meaning from a written text. Typically, a candidate might have difficulty understanding due to limited vocabulary and/or a lack of familiarity with the subject matter. Both these constraints may be remedied by reading more widely and making friends with a good dictionary.

How to Improve Reading Comprehension

Reading is all about information. It's not about the number of words you read, but the amount of value you extract from them. The key to improve reading comprehension isn't moving your eyes across a page more quickly. It's about creating a mental framework that helps you process words and ideas.

With a bit of practice, anyone can read faster and more productively. The steps outlined below will help you to extract the maximum amount of information in the least amount of time.

Before reading the text, ask yourself what you already know about its topic. Try to recall as much information as you can. Think of related ideas you've learned in the past. Make brief notes about your thoughts or discuss what you remember with others. Reading comprehension requires motivation, mental frameworks for holding ideas, concentration and good study techniques. Here are some suggestions.

Improve Your Reading Comprehension by Researching the Topic

Background information may appear on book covers and inner flaps of book jackets. Many books include an introductory section and a mini-biography about the author. Book publisher's websites may also include background information. Think about the information you read. Ask:

- What kind of text is this?
- What new information did I learn, and what do I expect to learn?
- Is this text informative or entertaining, fact or fiction?
- What interests me about this book?

Develop a Broad Background

Broaden your background knowledge by reading newspapers, magazines and books. Become interested in world events.

Improve Your Understanding

As you read, what questions come to mind? Read on to find the answers. You can think about the questions and answers or jot them down on paper. Research indicates that writing notes by hand can increase comprehension and recall among students who are not learning disabled in writing. For those who have LDs in writing mechanics, pair the writing with discussion to improve understanding and recall.

Know the Structure of Paragraphs

Good writers construct paragraphs that have a beginning, middle and end. Often, the first sentence will give an overview that helps provide a framework for adding details. Also, look for transitional words, phrases or paragraphs that change the topic.

Identify the Type of Reasoning

Does the author use cause and effect reasoning, hypothesis, model building, induction or deduction, systems thinking?

Anticipate and Predict

Really smart readers try to anticipate the author and predict future ideas and questions. If you're right, this reinforces your understanding. If you're wrong, you make adjustments quicker.

Look for the Method of Organization

Is the material organized chronologically, serially, logically, functionally, spatially or hierarchically?

Create Motivation and Interest

Preview material, ask questions, discuss ideas with classmates. The stronger your interest, the greater your comprehension.

Pay Attention to Supporting Cues

Study pictures, graphs and headings. Read the first and last paragraph in a chapter, or the first sentence in each section.

Highlight, Summarise and Review

Just reading a book once is not enough. To develop a deeper understanding, you have to highlight, summarize and review important ideas.

Build a Good Vocabulary

For most educated people, this is a lifetime project. The best way to improve your vocabulary is to use a dictionary regularly. You might carry around a pocket dictionary and use it to look up new words. Or, you can keep a list of words to look up at the end of the day. Concentrate on roots, prefixes and endings.

As you read, make a list of unfamiliar vocabulary words. Look up the meanings of the words in the dictionary, and jot definitions down by hand. Writing definitions by hand will help you remember the definition much more than by typing or by reading alone.

Monitor Effectiveness

Good readers monitor their attention; concentration and effectiveness. They quickly recognise if they've missed an idea and backup to reread it.

Test Yourself to Determine How Well You've Learned the material.

After your reading session, quiz yourself on the main points. What was the main idea? Who are the characters in the story? What information did you learn? Jot down your thoughts in your own words to help you remember them and give you deeper insight into the topic. If expressive writing is difficult for you, jot shorter notes and discuss the reading with a friend or parent.

EXERCISE

DIRECTIONS (Qs. 1-95) : Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions given below. Certain words/phrases are printed in bold to help you to locate them while answering some of the questions.

PASSAGE - 1

In the second week of August 1998, just a few days after the incidents of bombing the US embassies in Nairobi and Dar-es-Salaam, a high-powered, brain-storming session was held near Washington D.C., to discuss various aspects of terrorism. The meeting was attended by ten of America's leading experts in various fields such as germ and chemical warfare, public health, disease control and also by the doctors and the law-enforcing officers. Being asked to describe the horror of possible bio-attack, one of the experts narrated the following gloomy scenario.

A culprit in a crowded business centre or in a busy shopping mall of a town empties a test tube containing some fluid, which in turn creates an unseen cloud of germ of a dreaded disease like anthrax capable of inflicting a horrible death within 5 days on any one who inhales it. At first 500, or so victims feel that they have mild influenza which may recede after a day or two. Then the symptoms return again and their lungs start filling with fluid. They rush to local hospitals for treatment, but the panic-stricken people may find that the medicare services run quickly out of drugs due to excessive demand. But no one would be able to realise that a terrorist attack has occurred. One cannot deny the possibility that the germ involved would be of contagious variety capable of causing an epidemic. The meeting concluded that such attacks, apart from causing immediate human tragedy, would have dire long-term effects on the political and social fabric of a country by way of ending people's trust on the competence of the government.

The experts also said that the bombs used in Kenya and Tanzania were of the old-fashion variety and involved quantities of high explosives, but new terrorism will prove to be more deadly and probably more elusive than hijacking an aeroplane or a gelignite of previous decades. According to Bruce Hoffman, an American specialist on political violence, old terrorism generally had a specific manifesto - to overthrow a colonial power or the capitalist system and so on. These terrorists were not shy about planting a bomb or hijacking an aircraft and they set some limit to their brutality. Killing so many innocent people might turn their natural supporters off. Political terrorists want a lot of people watching but not a lot of people dead. "Old terrorism sought to change the world while the new sort is often practised by those who believe that the world has gone beyond redemption", he added.

Hoffman says, "New terrorism has no long-term agenda but is ruthless in its short-term intentions. It is often just a cacophonous cry of protest or an outburst of religious intolerance or a protest against the West in general and the US in particular. Its perpetrators may be religious fanatics or diehard opponent of a government and see no reason to show restraint. They are simply intent on inflicting the maximum amount of pain on the victim."

- In the context of the passage, the culprit's act of emptying a test tube containing some fluid can be classified as
 - a terrorist attack
 - an epidemic of a dreaded disease
 - a natural calamity
 - panic created by an imaginary event
- In what way would the new terrorism be different from that of the earlier years?
 - More dangerous and less baffling
 - More hazardous for victims
 - Less complicated for terrorists
 - A and C only
 - B and C only
 - A and B only
 - All the three
- What was the immediate provocation for the meeting held in August 1998?
 - the insistence of America's leading
 - the horrors of possible bio-attacks
 - a culprit's heinous act of spreading germs
 - None of these
- What could be the probable consequences of bio-attacks, as mentioned in the passage?
 - Several deaths
 - Political turmoil
 - Social unrest
 - A only
 - B only
 - C only
 - All A, B and C
- The author's purpose of writing the above passage seems to explain:
 - the methods of containing terrorism
 - the socio-political turmoil in African countries
 - the deadly strategies adopted by modern terrorists
 - reasons for killing innocent people
- According to the author of the passage, the root cause of terrorism is:
 - religious fanaticism
 - socio-political changes in countries
 - the enormous population growth
 - A only
 - B only
 - C only
 - A and B only
- The phrase "such attacks", as mentioned in the last sentence of the second paragraph, refers to:
 - the onslaught of an epidemic as a natural calamity
 - bio-attack on political people in the government
 - attack aimed at damaging the reputation of the government
 - bio-attack monoeuvred by unscrupulous elements
- The sole objective of the old terrorism, according to Hoffman, was to:
 - plant bombs to kill innocent people
 - remove colonial power or capitalist system
 - make people realise the incompetence of the government
 - give a setback to socio-political order

DIRECTIONS (Qs. 9-10) : Choose the word which is most OPPOSITE in meaning of the word printed in capital as used in the passage.

9. GLOOMY

- (a) discouraging (b) disgusting
(c) bright (d) tragic

10. CACOPHONOUS

- (a) loud (b) melodious
(c) sonorous (d) harsh

DIRECTIONS (Qs. 11-12) : Choose the word which is most nearly the SAME in meaning to the word printed in capital as used in the passage.

11. PERPETRATORS

- (a) opponents (b) followers
(c) leaders (d) monoeuvrers

12. ELUSIVE

- (a) harmful (b) fatal
(c) destructive (d) baffling

PASSAGE - 2

In a disarmingly frank talk at the Indian Merchants Chamber in Mumbai, the Japanese Ambassador in India dwelt at length on issues that exercise the minds of Japanese investors when they consider investment proposals in India.

Raising the question "What comparative advantages does India offer as an investment market ?", he said though labour in India is expensive, wage-levels are offset by productivity level to a large extent.

Acknowledging that the vastness of the Indian market is a great inducement for investment in manufacturing industry, he wondered if it was justifiable to provide that overseas remittance of profit in foreign exchange be fully covered by exchange earnings as had been done. Significantly, on the eve of the Prime Minister's visit to Japan, the government delinked profits repatriation from exports, meeting this demand.

The Ambassador said foreign investors needed to be assured of the continuity and consistency of the liberalisation policy and the fact that new measures had been put into force by means of administrative notifications without amending government laws acted as a damper.

The Ambassador pleaded for speedy formulation of the exit policy and pointed to the highly restrictive control by the government on disinvestment by foreign partner in joint ventures in India.

While it is all too easy to dismiss critical comment on conditions in India contemptuously, there can be little doubt that if foreign investment is to be wooed assiduously, we will have to meet exacting international standards and cater at least partially to what we may consider the idiosyncrasies of our foreign collaborators. The Japanese too have passed through a stage in the fifties when their products were derided as sub-standard and shoddy. That they have come out of that ordeal of fire to emerge as an economic superpower speaks a much of their doggedness to pursue goals against all odds acceptable standards.

There is no gainsaying that the past record of Japanese investment is a poor benchmark for future expectations.

13. The author has appreciated the Japanese for their:

- (a) quality of products manufactured in the fifties.
(b) passing through an ordeal.
(c) perseverance in raising quality of products.
(d) future expectations.

14. According to the Japanese Ambassador, which of the following motivates the foreign investors to invest in Indian manufacturing industry? .

- (a) very large scope of Indian market
(b) overseas remittance of profit in foreign exchange
(c) assurance of continuity of the liberalisation policy
(d) high productivity levels

15. The purpose of the author in writing this passage seems to be to:

- (a) discourage foreign investment in India.
(b) critically examine Indian investment environment.
(c) paint a rosy picture of India's trade and commerce.
(d) criticize government's liberalization policy.

16. According to the Japanese Ambassador, India offers a comparative advantage to foreign investors in terms of:

- (a) inexpensive labour
(b) abysmally low wage levels
(c) higher productivity
(d) None of these

17. For seeking more and more foreign investment, the author suggests that we should:

- (a) satisfy fully the whims of our foreign collaborators.
(b) dismiss all critical comments on Indian conditions.
(c) link profit repatriations to exports.
(d) raise the quality of product to match international standards.

18. From the passage it can be inferred that the author is:

- (a) a political commentator.
(b) a secretary of the Japanese Ambassador.
(c) a Japanese investor.
(d) an Indian investor.

19. The author attributes Japan's emergence as an economic superpower to:

- A. their ability to overcome any ordeal.
B. their tenacity and perseverance despite unfavourable circumstances.
C. their ability to improvise and adapt to globally acceptable quality levels.

- (a) A & B only (b) B & C only
(c) A & C only (d) All the three

20. Which of the following statement(s) is/are true about the critical comments on investment conditions in India?

- A. These comments are difficult to be countered.
B. These comments are received from various international quarters.
C. These comments are based more on biases than on facts.

- (a) Only C (b) Only B
(c) Only A (d) A & B only

DIRECTIONS (Qs. 21-22): Choose the word which is most nearly the SAME in meaning to the word printed in capital as used in the passage.

21. ASSIDUOUSLY

- (a) persistently (b) hastily
(c) feebly (d) diligently

22. IDIOSYNCRASIES

- (a) demands (b) needs
(c) deviations (d) characteristics

DIRECTIONS (Qs. 23-24): Choose the word which is most OPPOSITE in meaning of the word printed in capital as used in the passage.

23. INDUCEMENT

- (a) incentive (b) motive
(c) impediment (d) temptation

24. JUSTIFIABLE

- (a) unreasonable (b) formidable
(c) temptation (d) inevitable

PASSAGE - 3

Since July 1991, the government of India has effectively put the liberalisation policy into practice. The drastic steps even include some administrative reforms for pruning the government agencies. Last year the Japanese business circles represented by the Ishikawa Mission called attention of their Indian counterparts to what they considered to be the major impediments in India. However, thanks to the almost revolutionary reforms put into effect by the Indian government, those impediments either have been removed or now are on their way out. This development gives a new hope for the future of economic co-operation between the two countries. At the same time, it should be borne in mind that there is a stiff competition with other countries, notably China and South-East Asian countries, in this regard. The success stories of ASEAN countries welcoming Japanese investments with adequate infrastructure are already known in India but it may be useful if further studies of Japanese joint ventures in ASEAN countries be made by Indian business circles. The coastal areas of China have initiated a very active campaign to welcome foreign economic participation.

Beyond our bilateral relationship, India's more active participation in global economy is needed. India certainly deserves a far bigger share of world trade considering its vast resources. It is strongly hoped that the Indian government's recently initiated effort of enlarging its export market would bear fruit.

India has steadfastly maintained its parliamentary democracy since independence. Considering its size, its population and its internal complexity, the overall maintenance of national integrity and political stability under parliamentary democracy is remarkable and admirable indeed. Here lies the base for the status of India in the world. By effectively implementing its economic reform with the support of public opinion, this democratic polity of India has again demonstrated its viability and resilience. At the same time, it gives hope and inspiration to the whole world which faces the difficult problem of North-South confrontation.

25. The Ishikawa Mission during its visit to India emphasized on:

- (a) future economic co-operation between Japan and India.
(b) need for removing policy and/or implementation hurdles.
(c) need for a stiff competition.
(d) striking down revolutionary reforms.

26. How did the Indian government react to the hurdles in the way of bilateral trade between India and Japan?

- (a) The government, in principle, agreed for removal of these hurdles.
(b) Bureaucracy succeeded in maintaining a status quo.
(c) Government thought it was against liberalisation policy.
(d) The Japanese delegation could not forcefully argue their case.

27. What is the result of Japanese investments in ASEAN nations?

- (a) It could not gather momentum for want of infrastructure.
(b) The experiment failed because of stiff competition from other countries.
(c) China and South-East Asian countries objected to Japanese investments.
(d) The passage does not provide complete information..

28. Which of the following is TRUE about the author's view regarding India's participation in world trade?

- (a) India should actively contribute in a big way as it had tremendous resources.
(b) India's sharing in global economy has already been very fast and beyond its resources.
(c) India should refrain from making efforts in enlarging its export market.
(d) India needs to first strengthen its democracy.

29. It can be inferred from the content of the passage that the author is a/an

- (a) political analyst (b) Japanese bureaucrat
(c) economist (d) Japanese politician

30. The author seems to appreciate India's national integrity and political stability particularly in view of which of the following ?

- A. the size of the country
B. India's population
C. its internal complexity
(a) None of the three (b) All the three
(c) A & B only (d) B & C only

31. The author feels that India has a better status in the world market because of its:

- (a) success in political stability and national integration in democratic set-up.
(b) vast population.
(c) giant size.
(d) effective bilateral relationship with other countries.

32. Which of the following statements is TRUE in the context of the passage?

- A. India's successful experiment of economic reform has become an inspiration to the world.
B. Size, population and internal complexity of our country are the barriers in the way of attaining national integrity and political stability.
C. A few government agencies were not in favour of liberalisation policy at the beginning.
(a) A only (b) B only
(c) C only (d) All the three

DIRECTIONS (Qs. 33-34) : Choose the word which is most nearly the SAME in meaning as the word printed in bold as used in the passage.

33. RESILIENCE

- (a) quietening (b) amplifying
(c) existence (d) adaptability

34. PRUNING

- (a) activating (b) trimming
(c) punishing (d) encouraging

DIRECTIONS (Qs.35-36): Choose the word which is most OPPOSITE in meaning of the word printed in bold as used in the passage.

35. STIFF

- (a) stubborn (b) indelible
(c) tense (d) yielding

36. IMPEDIMENTS

- (a) exaggeration (b) compendium
(c) obstacle (d) benefit

PASSAGE - 4

There is no field of human endeavour that has been so misunderstood as health. While health which connotes well-being and the absence of illness has a low profile, it is illness representing the failure of health which virtually monopolises attention because of the fear of pain, disability and death. Even Sushruta has warned that this provides the medical practitioner power over the patient which could be misused.

Till recently, patients had implicit faith in their physician whom they loved and respected, not only for his knowledge but also in the total belief that practitioners of this noble profession, guided by ethics, always placed the patient's interest above all other considerations. This rich interpersonal relationship between the physician, patient and family has, barring a few exceptions, prevailed till the recent past, for caring was considered as important as curing. Our indigenous systems of medicine like ayurveda and yoga have been more concerned with the promotion of the health of both the body and mind and with maintaining a harmonious relationship not just with fellow-beings but with nature itself, of which man is an integral part. Healthy practices like cleanliness, proper diet, exercise and meditation are part of our culture which sustains people even in the prevailing conditions of poverty in rural India and in the unhygienic urban slums.

These systems consider disease as an aberration resulting from disturbance of the equilibrium of health, which must be corrected by gentle restoration of this balance through proper diet, medicines and the establishment of mental peace. They also teach the graceful acceptance of old age with its infirmities resulting from the normal degenerative process as well as of death which is inevitable.

This is in marked contrast to the western concept of life as a constant struggle against disease, ageing and death which must be fought and conquered with the knowledge and technology derived from their science: a science which, with its narrow dissective and quantifying approach, has provided us the understanding of the microbial causes of communicable diseases and provided highly effective technology for their prevention, treatment and control. This can rightly be claimed as the greatest contribution of western medicine and justifiably termed as 'high' technology. And yet the contribution of this science in the field of non-communicable diseases is remarkably poor despite the far greater inputs in research and treatment for the problems of ageing like cancer, heart diseases, paralytic strokes and arthritis which are the major problems of affluent societies today.

37. Which of the following has been described as the most outstanding benefits of modern medicine?

- (a) The real cause and ways of control of communicable diseases
(b) Evolution of the concept of harmony between man and nature
(c) Special techniques for fighting ageing

- (a) Only B and C
(b) Only A and B
(c) Only A
(d) Only B

38. In India traditionally the doctors were being guided mainly by which of the following?

- (a) High technology (b) Good knowledge
(c) Professional ethics (d) Power over patient

39. What caution have proponents of indigenous systems sounded against medical practitioners?

- (a) Their undue concern for the health of the person.
(b) Their emphasis on research on non-communicable diseases.
(c) Their emphasis on curing illness rather than preventive health measures.
(d) Their emphasis on restoring health for affluent members of the society.

40. Why has the field of health not been understood properly?

- (a) Difficulty in understanding distinction between health and illness.
(b) Confusion between views of indigenous and western system.
(c) Highly advanced technology being used by the professionals.
(d) Not given in the passage.

41. Why, according to the author, have people in India survived in spite of poverty?

- (a) Their natural resistance to communicable diseases is very high.
(b) They have easy access to western technology.
(c) Their will to conquer diseases.
(d) None of these.

42. Which of the following pairs are mentioned as 'contrast' in the passage?

- (a) Western concept of life and science.
(b) Technology and science.
(c) Western physician and western-educated Indian physician.
(d) Indian and western concepts of life.

43. Why does the author describe the contributions of science as remarkably poor?

- (a) It concentrates more on health than on illness.
(b) It suggests remedies for the poor people.
(c) It demands more inputs in terms of research and technology.
(d) None of these.

44. The author seems to suggest that

- (a) we should give importance to improving the health rather than curing of illness.
(b) we should move towards becoming an affluent society.
(c) ayurveda is superior to yoga.
(d) good interpersonal relationship between the doctor and the patient is necessary but not sufficient.
(d) ayurvedic medicines can be improved by following western approaches and methods of sciences.

DIRECTIONS (Qs. 45-46) : Choose the word which is most OPPOSITE in meaning of the word printed in bold as used in the passage.

45. Inevitable

- (a) Undesirable (b) Unsuitable
(c) Detestable (d) Avoidable

46. Degenerative

- (a) Recuperative (b) Revolving
(c) Productive (d) Innovative

DIRECTIONS (Qs. 47-48) : Choose the word which is most nearly the SAME in meaning as the word printed in bold as used in the passage.

47. Connates

- (a) Helps (b) Cures
(c) Follows (d) Confirms

48. Aberration

- (a) Observation (b) Alternative
(c) Deviation (d) stimulate

PASSAGE - 5

We have inherited the tradition of secrecy about the budget from Britain where also the system has been strongly attacked by eminent economists and political scientists including Peter Jay. Sir Richard Clarke, who was the originating genius of nearly every important development in the British budgeting techniques during the last two decades, has spoken out about the abuse of budget secrecy: "The problems of long-term tax policy should surely be debated openly with the facts on the table. In my opinion, all governments should have just the same duty to publish their expenditure policy. Indeed, this obligation to publish taxation policy is really essential for the control of public expenditure in order to get realistic taxation implications." Realising that democracy flourishes best on the principles of open government, more and more democracies are having an open public debate on budget proposals before introducing the appropriate Bill in the legislature. In the United States the budget is conveyed in a message by the President to the Congress, which comes well in advance of the date when the Bill is introduced in the Congress. In Finland the Parliament and the people are already discussing in June the tentative budget proposals which are to be introduced in the Finnish Parliament in September. Every budget contains a cartload of figures in black and white - but the dark figures represent the myriad lights and shades of India's life, the contrasting tones of poverty and wealth, and of bread so dear and flesh and blood so cheap, the deep tints of adventure and enterprise and man's ageless struggle for a brighter morning. The Union budget should not be an annual scourge but a part of presentation of annual accounts of a partnership between the Government and the people. That partnership would work much better when the nonsensical secrecy is replaced by openness and public consultations, resulting in fair laws and the people's acceptance of their moral duty to pay.

49. How do the British economists and political scientists react to budget secrecy? They are:

- (a) in favour of having a mix of secrecy and openness.
(b) indifferent to the budgeting techniques and taxation policies.
(c) very critical about maintenance of budget secrecy.
(d) advocates of not disclosing in advance the budget contents.

50. The author thinks that openness in budget is essential as it leads to:

- (a) prevention of tax implications
(b) people's reluctance to accept their moral duties
(c) exaggerated revelation of the strengths and weaknesses of economy
(d) None of these

51. The author seems to be in favour of :

- (a) maintaining secrecy of budget
(b) judicious blend of secrecy and openness
(c) transparency in budget proposals
(d) replacement of public constitution by secrecy

52. The secrecy of the budget is maintained by all of the following countries except:

A. Finland B. India

C. United States

- (a) Only A (b) Only B
(c) Only C (d) A and C

53. Which of the following statements is definitely TRUE in the context of the passage?

- (a) The British Government has been religiously maintaining budget secrecy.
(b) Budget secrecy is likely to lead to corrupt practices.
(c) Consulting unjustifiable taxes with public helps make them accept those taxes.
(d) None of these

54. Sir Richard Clarke seems to deserve the credit for:

- (a) transformation in the British budgetary techniques.
(b) maintenance of secrecy of the British budget.
(c) detection of abuse of transparency in budget.
(d) bringing down the tax load on British people.

55. From the contents of the passage, it can be inferred that the author is:

- (a) authoritarian in his approach.
(b) a democratic person.
(c) unaware of India's recent economic developments.
(d) a conservative person.

56. For making the budget realistic, the Government should:

- (a) refrain from making public the proposed provisions before finalisation.
(b) discuss it secretly within themselves.
(c) encourage the public to send in their suggestions.
(d) consult the public, defend their own plans and accept public suggestions.

DIRECTIONS (Qs. 57-58) : Choose the word which is most nearly the SAME in meaning to the word printed in bold as used in the passage.

57. SCOURGE

- (a) ritual (b) presentation
(c) whip (d) compromise

58. MYRIAD

- (a) adequate (b) functional
(c) incompatible (d) abundant

DIRECTIONS (Qs. 59-60) : Choose the word which is most OPPOSITE in meaning to the word printed in bold as used in the passage.

59. FLOURISHES

- (a) disappears (b) degenerates
(c) vanishes (d) blooms

60. DEBATED

- (a) questioned severely
- (b) opposed strongly
- (c) accepted unconditionally
- (d) discussed frankly

PASSAGE - 6

The Prime Minister's recent trip to Nigeria, the first bilateral prime ministerial visit to Africa since Jawaharlal Nehru's 45 years ago, recalls a long neglected Indian obligation. "It is up to Asia to help Africa to the best of her ability," Nehru told the Bandung Conference in 1955, "because we are sister continents." The Prime Minister's proposed strategic partnership with African nations might at last make good that 52-year old promise and also, perhaps, challenge China's expedient diplomacy.

In the intervening years, the West's sanctimonious boycott of many African regimes - after nearly a century of extreme colonial exploitation - left the continent in the grip of oppressive rulers looking for new political sponsors, arms-sellers and trading partners. Not only was it an abdication of the developed world's responsibility to the world's least developed region, sanctions actually compounded the sufferings of poorer Africans. The Darfur killings continue and there is no mellowing of Robert Mugabe's repression in Zimbabwe.

A bandoned by the West Africa looked elsewhere. Beijing filled the vacuum by eagerly embracing dangerous and unsavoury regimes in its search for oil and other minerals. China demonstrated its influence by playing host to 48 out of 53 African leaders a year ago in a jamboree that was historic as well as historical. Historic because China has succeeded in becoming the pre-eminent outside power in Africa and its second biggest trading partner. Historical because modern Chinese diplomacy draws on the Middle kingdom's ancient formula; the tribute system. It was how the son of Heaven brought those nations whom the Celestial Empire called "barbarians" into his imperial trading and, through it, cultural and political system.

Contemporary China's economic penetration of Africa also heralds a new era of cultural and political ties though the Chinese foreign ministry repeatedly assure the world that "our cooperation is not designed to be against or preclude any third party." This is untrue in a world of finite resources. Once the Chinese are established in a country, no one else gets a foothold. Myanmar, where India failed to obtain the desired gas concessions, is a prime example. Aware that the hunt for energy is a zero-sum game, China's leadership courts African leaders with regular visits and substantial grants.

After decades of neglect - Vajpayee's Africa visit over a decade ago was to attend a Commonwealth Summit - India will have to move cautiously but quickly if it is to break China's monopoly. Along with investing in Africa's human capital, China has outlined a strategic investment plan to build three to five trade economic cooperation zones in Africa by 2009 to boost trade, which is expected to tap $40 billion this year. That could double to $30 billion by 2010 on the back of an insatiable demand for natural resources to feed China's booming economy.

61. What was Jawaharlal Nehru's consideration for helping African nations?
 - (a) The people in the continent were extremely backward
 - (b) The Bandung Conference was held in African Continent
 - (c) African Continent is emotionally related to Asian Continent
 - (d) Nehru had promised the British rulers to help Africa after independence
62. The example of Myanmar given by the author proves:
 - (a) that when China patronizes a country it does not allow other nations to enter
 - (b) India's foresight to feed its growing hunger for energy
 - (c) Myanmar's political acumen to have symbiosis with China
 - (d) that a country's political wisdom does not necessarily establish economic stability
63. Which of the following is the author's suggestion to India to break the Chinese monopoly?
 - (a) Move away cautiously but quickly from the African nations
 - (b) Arrange P. M's regular visits to African countries
 - (c) Outline a strategic plan of investment in the African countries
 - (d) None of these
64. From the contents of the passage, it can be inferred that the author's views are:
 - (a) in favour of India gaining an edge over China
 - (b) against India's entering into a competition with China
 - (c) in favour of not making any investment in African countries
 - (d) appreciate of oppressive and barbaric African rulers
65. The author considers the claims of the Chinese Foreign Ministry regarding third party as:
 - (a) just and worthy of trust
 - (b) true but slightly exaggerated
 - (c) too exorbitant to be true
 - (d) None of these
66. Which of the following best explains the term "Middle kingdom's ancient formula"?
 - (a) Rendering free hand for political, cultural & commercial upliftment
 - (b) Influencing the underdeveloped countries through apparently patronizing policy
 - (c) Referring the underdeveloped folks as barbarians and mistreating them
 - (d) Becoming pre-eminent outside power and thus ruling over them
67. Which of the following was/were the reason(s) for the backwardness of African Nations?
 - (1) Mistreatment by the alien rulers
 - (2) Tyrannical leaders governing the gullible masses
 - (3) Exploitation and neglect by Western countries
 - (a) (1) and (2) only (b) (2) and (3) only
 - (d) (1) and (3) only (d) All the three

68. China's substantial grants to African countries are an act of:
- China's modern policy of rendering social service on humanitarian considerations
 - stepping up its campaign of universal brotherhood among nations
 - rendering selfless service to certain underdeveloped countries to beat the western countries.
 - calculated selfish motive to fulfill its energy needs

DIRECTIONS (Qs. 69-71) : Choose the word which is most OPPOSITE in meaning of the word given in bold as used in the passage.

PASSAGE - 7

Amartya Sen wrote about the Indian tradition of skepticism and heterodoxy of opinion that led to high levels of intellectual argument. The power sector in India is a victim of this tradition at its worst. Instead of forcefully communicating, supporting and honestly and firmly implementing policies, people just debate them. It is argued that central undertakings produce power at lower tariffs and must therefore build most of the required extra capacities. This is a delusion. They no longer have access to low-cost government funds.

Uncertainty about payment remains a reason for the hesitation of private investment. They had to sell only to SEBs (State Electricity Boards). SEB balance sheets are cleaner after the "securitisation" of the Rs 40,000 crore or so owed by SEBs to central government undertakings, now shown as debt instruments. But state governments have not implemented agreed plans to ensure repayment when due. The current annual losses of around Rs 28,000 crore make repayment highly uncertain. The central undertakings that are their main suppliers have payment security because the government will come to their help. Private enterprises do not have such assurance and are concerned about payment security, that must be resolved.

By the late 1990s, improving the SEB finances was recognised as fundamental to power reform. Unbundling SEBs, working under corporate discipline and even privatisation and not vertically integrated state enterprises, are necessary for efficient and financially viable electricity enterprises. Since government will not distance itself from managing them, privatising is an option. The Delhi model has worked. But it receives no public support.

The Electricity Act 2003, the APRDP (Accelerated Power Reform and Development Programme) with its incentives and penalties, and the creation of independent regulatory commissions, were the means to bring about reforms to improve financial viability of power sector. Implementation has been half-hearted and results disappointing. The concurrent nature of electricity in the Constitution impedes power sector improvement. States are more responsive to populist pressures than the central government, and less inclined to take drastic action against electricity thieves.

Captive power would add significantly to capacity. However, captive generation, three years after the Act enabled it, has added little to capacity because rules for open access were delayed. Redefined captive generation avoids state vetoes on purchase or sale of electricity except to state electricity enterprises. Mandating open access on state-owned wires to power regardless of ownership and customer would encourage electricity trading. The Act recognised electricity trading as a separate activity. A surcharge on transmission charges will pay for cross-subsidies. These were to be eliminated in time. Rules for open access and the quantum of surcharge by each state commission (under broad principles defined by the central commission) have yet to be announced by some. The few who have announced the surcharge have kept it so high that no trading can take place.

74. The author thinks it appropriate to:

- discuss any policy in details and make it fool proof instead of implementing it hastily.
- follow Indian tradition meticulously as skepticism is essential for major decisions.
- divert our energies from fruitlessly contracting policies to supporting its implementation whole-heartedly.
- intellectual arguments and conceptualisation of every policy is definitely better than its enforcement.

75. Why are the central undertakings not capable of generating power at low cost?

- Due to paucity of low-cost funds
- Due to their access to Government funds
- Due to their delusion about government funds
- Because of their extra capacities

76. Which of the following is the reason for apathy of private investors in power sector?

- Their hesitation
- Uncertainty of their survival
- Cut-throat competition
- Lack of guarantee of timely returns

77. What was the serious omission on the part of the State Government?

- Agreement for late recovery of dues
- Reluctance to repay to private investors as per agreed plan
- Non-implementation of recovery due to unplanned and haphazard policies
- Lack of assurance from private enterprises

78. Which of the following is/are considered necessary for improving performance of electricity enterprises?
- (A) Corporate work culture
(B) Privatisation
(C) Properly integrated state enterprises
(a) All the three (b) (a) and (b) only
(c) (a) and (c) only (d) (b) and (c) only
79. The example of “Delhi Model” quoted by the author underlines his feelings of:
- A. happiness about its success
B. unhappiness for lack of public support
C. disgust towards privatisation
(a) (a) and (b) only (b) (b) and (c) only
(c) (a) and (c) only (d) All the three
80. Which of the following was/were not considered as the instrument(s) to accomplish financial well-being of power sector?
- (a) The Electricity Act 2003
(b) The APRDP with its incentives and penalties
(c) Setting up of independent regulatory commissions
(d) States vulnerability to populist pressures
81. Why were the results of the power sector reforms NOT as had been anticipated?
- (a) The means to bring about reforms were illconceived.
(b) The enforcement of the reform means was inadequate and apathetic.
(c) The Act and the reform measures were contradicting with each other.
(d) The incentives on the one hand and penalties on the other created dissatisfaction.

DIRECTIONS (Qs. 82-83): Choose the word or group of words which is most nearly the SAME in meaning as the word printed in bold.

82. DELUSION

- (a) proper understanding (b) wrong prediction
(c) false belief (d) unkind propaganda
(e) unrealistic optimism

83. VIABILITY

- (a) ability to reform (b) ability to meditate
(c) capability to survive (d) ability to spend

DIRECTIONS (Qs. 84-85): Choose the word or group of words which is most OPPOSITE in meaning of the word printed in bold.

84. IMPEDE

- (a) interferes (b) grows
(c) excels (d) promotes

85. UNBUNDLING

- (a) disorganising (b) reorienting
(c) integrating (d) winding

PASSAGE - 8

In February 2010 the Medical Council of India announced a major change in the regulation governing the establishment of medical colleges. With this change, corporate entities were permitted to open medical colleges. The new regulation also carried the following warning : “permission shall be withdrawn if the colleges resort to commercialisation”. Since the regulation does not elaborate on what constitutes “resorting to commercialisation”, this will presumably be a matter left to the discretion of the Government.

A basic requirement for a new medical college is a pre-existing hospital that will serve as a teaching hospital. Corporate entities have hospitals in the major metros and that is where they will have to locate medical colleges. The earlier mandated land requirement for a medical college campus, a minimum of 25 acres of contiguous land, cannot be fulfilled in the metros. Not surprisingly, yet another tweak has been made in the regulation, prescribing 10 acres as the new minimum campus size for 9 cities including the main metros. With this, the stage is set for corporate entities to enter the medical education market.

Until now, medical education in India has been projected as a not-for-profit activity to be organised for the public good. While private bodies can run medical colleges, these can only be societies or trusts, legally non-profit organisations. In opening the door to corporate colleges, thus, a major policy change has been effected without changing the law or even a discussion in Parliament, but by simply getting a compliant MCI to change the regulation on establishment of medical colleges. This and other changes have been justified in the name of addressing the shortage of doctors. At the same time, over 50 existing medical colleges, including 15 run by the government, have been prohibited from admitting students in 2010 for having failed to meet the basic standards prescribed. Ninety per cent of these colleges have come up in the last 5 years. Particularly shocking is the phenomenon of government colleges falling short of standards approved by the Government. Why are state government institutions not able to meet the requirements that have been approved by the central government? A severe problem faced by government-run institutions is attracting and retaining teaching faculty, and this is likely to be among the major reasons for these colleges failing to satisfy the MCI norms. The crisis building up on the faculty front has been flagged by various commissions looking into problems of medical education over the years.

An indicator of the crisis is the attempt to conjure up faculty when MCI carries out inspections of new colleges, one of its regulatory functions. Judging by news reports, the practice of presenting fake faculty – students or private medical practitioners hired for the day – during MCI inspections in private colleges is common. What is interesting is that even government colleges are adopting unscrupulous methods. Another indicator is the extraordinary scheme, verging on the ridiculous that is being put in place by the MCI to make inspections ‘foolproof’. Faculty in all medical colleges are to be issued an RFID-based smart card by the MCI with a unique Faculty Number. The card, it is argued, will eliminate the possibility of a teacher being shown on the faculty of more than one college and establish if the qualifications of a teacher are genuine. In the future, it is projected that biometric RFID readers will be installed in the colleges that will enable a Faculty Identification, Tracking and Monitoring System to monitor faculty from within the college and even remotely from MCI headquarters.

The picture above does not even start to reveal the true and pathetic situation of medical care especially in rural India. Only a fraction of the doctors and nursing professionals serve rural areas where 70 per cent of our population lives. The Health Ministry, with the help of the MCI, has been active in proposing yet another ‘innovative’ solution to the problem of lack of doctors in the rural areas. The proposal is for a three-and-a-half year course to obtain the degree of Bachelor of Rural Medicine and Surgery (BRMS). Only rural candidates would be able to join this course. The study and training would happen at two different levels – Community Health Centers for 18 months, and sub-divisional hospitals for a further period of 2 years – and be conducted by retired professors. After completion of training, they would only be able to serve in their own state in district hospitals, community health centres, and primary health centres.

The BRMS proposal has invited sharp criticism from some doctors' organisations on the grounds that it is discriminatory to have two different standards of health care – one for urban and the other for rural areas, and that the health care provided by such graduates will be compromised. At the other end is the opinion expressed by some that "something is better than nothing", that since doctors do not want to serve in rural areas, the government may as well create a new cadre of medics who will be obliged to serve there. The debate will surely pick up after the government formally lays out its plans. What is apparent is that neither this proposal nor the various stopgap measures adopted so far address the root of the problem of health care.

The far larger issue is government policy, the low priority attached by the government to the social sector as a whole and the health sector in particular, evidenced in the paltry allocations for maintaining and upgrading medical infrastructure and medical education and for looking after precious human resources.

86. What solution is being offered by the Health Ministry for the shortage of doctors in rural areas?
- Run a separate medical course for three and a half years which can be taken up only by rural candidates who would ultimately serve in the rural areas
 - Make it mandatory for doctors serving in the urban areas to serve in the rural areas for a specific number of years
 - Set up increasing number of community health centres in rural areas
 - Hire retired professors of medicine to offer medical help to people living in the rural areas till the time more doctors are appointed
87. Why have some existing medical colleges been prohibited from admitting students?
- As these have adopted corrupt practices and have been taking huge donations from their students
 - As all these colleges were illegally set up and were not approved by the government in the first place
 - As the course offered by these colleges is not in line with the course offered by the government run colleges
 - As these have failed to meet the norms set by the central government for running the college
88. Which of the following is/are the changes announced by the MCI in the regulation governing the establishment of medical college?
- Allowing the commercialisation of medical colleges.
 - Reducing the earlier mandated land requirement for a medical college campus for metros.
 - Allowing corporate bodies to open medical colleges.
- Only (B)
 - Only (A) and (B)
 - Only (C)
 - Only (B) and (C)

89. Which of the following are the different opinions regarding the BRMS proposal?
- At least a small step has been taken to improve the healthcare facilities in the rural areas through this proposal.
 - There should be uniform healthcare facilities available for people living in both rural and urban area
 - The healthcare providers through this proposal would not be up to the mark.
- Only (A)
 - Only (A) and (B)
 - Only (B) and (C)
 - Only (B)
90. Which of the following is possibly the most appropriate title for the passage?
- Healthcare in India – The Questionable Changes
 - Medical Centres in Rural India
 - Commercialisation of Medical Education in India
 - The Medical Council of India
91. What is one of the major problems faced by the government-run medical institutions?
- Dearth of land required for the setting up of medical institutions
 - Lack of funds for running the colleges
 - Dearth of teaching faculty
 - Excessive competition from colleges run by corporate bodies

DIRECTIONS (Q. 92 & 93) : Choose the word/group of words which is most similar in meaning to the word/group of words printed in bold as used in the passage.

92. FLAGGED

- highlighted
- stopped
- bannered
- caused

93. FALLING SHORT

- remaining tiny
- limiting
- not meeting
- just satisfying

DIRECTIONS (Q. 94 & 95) : Choose the word/group of words which is most opposite in meaning to the word/ group of words printed in bold as used in the passage.

94. UNSCRUPULOUS

- corrupt
- even
- constant
- honest

95. SHARP

- mild
- thin
- blunt
- rounded

DIRECTIONS (Qs. 96 to 143) : Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.

PASSAGE - 9

Nature is an infinite source of beauty. Sunrise and sunset, mountains and rivers, lakes and glaciers, forests and fields provide joy and bliss to the human mind and heart for hours together. Everything in nature is splendid and divine. Everyday and every season of the year has a peculiar beauty to unfold. Only one should have eyes to behold it and a heart to feel it like the English poet William Wordsworth who after seeing daffodils said: "And then my heart with pleasure fills and dances with the daffodils".

Nature is a great teacher. The early man was thrilled with beauty and wonders of nature. The Aryans worshipped nature. One can learn the lessons in the vast school of nature.

Unfortunately the strife, the stress and the tension of modern life have made people immune to beauties of nature. Their life is so full of care that they have no time to stand and stare. They cannot enjoy the beauty of flowing rivers, swinging trees, flying birds and majestic mountains and hills. There is however, a cry to go back to village from the concrete and artificial jungle of cities. Hence the town planners of today pay special attention to provide enough number of natural scenic spots in town planning. To develop a balanced personality, one needs to have a healthy attitude which can make us appreciate and enjoy the beauty of nature.

There is other balm to soothe our tired soul and listless mind than the infinite nature all around us. We should enjoy it fully to lead a balanced and harmonious life, full of peace and tranquility.

96. Which of the following words has the SAME meaning as the word 'care' as used in the passage ?
 (a) Grief (b) Want
 (c) Needs (d) Pleasure
97. Choose the word which is most OPPOSITE in meaning of the word 'unfold' as used in the passage?
 (a) Declare (b) Conceal
 (c) Describe (d) Perpetuate
98. Which of the following statements is not made in the passage about Nature?
 (a) Nature is an infinite source of beauty
 (b) Everything in nature is splendid and divine
 (c) Nature is a great teacher
 (d) The early man was scared of Nature
99. What is needed to develop balanced personality?
 (a) Interpersonal skills
 (b) Reading poetry
 (c) Healthy attitude
 (d) Going back to villages
100. Why do people not enjoy the beauty of Nature ?
 (a) They are running after material pleasures
 (b) They do not consider nature as balm to soothe their fired minds
 (c) Their life is full of worries and tensions
 (d) They are afraid of nature
101. What should we do to enjoy tranquil life ?
 (a) Get totally immersed in our daily routine
 (b) Believe that nature is infinite source of beauty
 (c) Lead a disciplined and dedicated life
 (d) Enjoy the nature around us
102. What are the town planners doing today?
 (a) Providing facilities for enjoying nature
 (b) Establishing balance between concrete and artificial jungle of cities
 (c) Supporting the cry to go back to villages
 (d) Making efforts to inculcate healthy attitude among people
103. According to the author of the passage, Nature:
 (a) is the ultimate salvation of man
 (b) is the creator of this universe
 (c) brings uniformity in all seasons
 (d) is abundantly glorious and divine

PASSAGE - 10

Stuck with the development dilemma? Stay away from management courses. Seriously, one of the biggest complaints that organisations have about management courses is that they fail to impact the participants' on-the-job behaviour. Some management trainers stress the need for follow-up and reinforcement on the job. Some go so far as briefing the participants' managers on what behaviour they should be reinforcing back on the job. Other include a follow-up training day to review the progress of the participants. None of this is really going far enough.

The real problem is that course promoters view development as something which primarily, takes place in a classroom. A course is an event and events are, by definition limited in time. When you talk about follow-up after a course, it is seen as a nice idea, but not as an essential part of the participants' development programme. Any rational, empowered individual should be able to take what has been learnt in a course and transfer it to the work place - or so the argument goes. Another negative aspect of the course mindset is that, primarily, development is thought to be about skill-acquisition.

So, it is felt that the distinction between taking the course and behaving differently in the work place parallels the distinction between skill-acquisition and skill-application. But can such a sharp distinction be maintained? Skills are really acquired only in the context of applying them on the job, finding them effective and, therefore, reinforcing them.

The problem with courses is that they are events, while development is an on-going process which, involves, within a complex environment, continual interaction, regular feedback and adjustment. As we tend to equate development with a one-off event, it is difficult to get seriously motivated about the follow-up. Anyone paying for a course tends to look at follow-up as an unnecessary and rather costly frill.

104. What is the passage about?
 (a) personal management
 (b) development dilemma
 (c) management courses
 (d) course promoters' attitude
105. Which of the following statements is false?
 (a) Some management trainers stress the need for follow-up and reinforcement on the job
 (b) Some suggest a follow-up training day to review the progress of the participants
 (c) Some go to the extent of briefing the participants' managers on what behaviour they should be reinforcing back on the job
 (d) The real problem is that course promoters view development as something which does not take place during a course.
106. The writer's attitude, as reflected in the passage, is
 (a) critical (b) ironic
 (c) sympathetic (d) philosophical
107. The course promoters' attitude is
 (a) self-righteous (b) indifferent
 (c) easy-going (d) unprogressive

108. The word 'mindset' here means
- a determined mind
 - a (fixed) attitude of mind
 - an open mind
 - mindful

PASSAGE -11

One may look at life, events, society, history, in another way. A way which might, at a stretch, be described as the Gandhian way, though it may be from times before Mahatma Gandhi came on the scene. The Gandhian reaction to all grim poverty, squalor and degradation of the human being would approximate to effort at self-change and self-improvement, to a regime of living regulated by discipline from within. To change society, the individual must first change himself. In this way of looking at life and society, words too begin to mean differently. Revolution, for instance, is a term frequently used, but not always in the sense it has been in the lexicon of the militant. So also with words like peace and struggle. Even society may mean differently, being some kind of organic entity for the militant, and more or less a sum of individuals for the Gandhian. There is yet another way, which might, for want of a better description, be called the mystic. The mystic's perspective measures these concerns that transcend political ambition and the dynamism of the reformer, whether he be militant or Gandhian. The mystic measures the terror of not knowing the remorseless march of time; he seeks to know what was before birth, what comes after death? The continuous presence of death, of the consciousness of death, sets his priorities and values: militants and Gandhians, kings and prophets, must leave all that they have built; all that they have unbuilt and depart when messengers of the buffalo-riding Yama come out of the shadows. Water will to water, dust to dust. Think of impermanence. Everything passes.

109. The Gandhian reaction of poverty is
- a total war on poverty
 - self-discipline
 - self-abnegation
 - a regulated distribution of wealth
110. According to Gandhianism, the individual who wants to change society
- should destroy the existing society
 - must re-form society
 - must change himself
 - may change society without changing himself
111. Who, according to the passage, finds new meaning for words like revolutions, peace and struggle?
- A Gandhian who believes in non-violent revolution
 - A militant
 - A mystic
 - A Gandhian who disciplines himself from within
112. The expression 'water will to water, dust to dust' means
- water and dust can mix well
 - man will become water after death
 - man will one day die and become dust
 - man will become dust and water after death
113. What does society mean to a Gandhian?
- a sum of individuals
 - an organic entity
 - a regime of living regulated by discipline from within
 - a disciplined social community

PASSAGE -12

The stunning Baltimore Oriole is a common summer visitor to eastern and mid western deciduous woodlands, neighbourhoods, and gardens. Baltimore Orioles winter in the tropics. About 7 inches in length, the male Baltimore Oriole has a black head, throat, back and wings. Its breast, stomach, and rump are bright orange. It also has an orange patch on the top of each wing and white wing bars. The tail is mostly black with orange fringes. The female is dull orange throughout.

Baltimore Orioles range throughout the eastern and mid western United States, and can be found as far west as the Dakotas. At the western edge of their range, Baltimore Orioles may breed with the Bullock's Oriole (They were once considered the same species under the name Northern Oriole).

Baltimore Orioles build unusual pouch like nests that hang down from branches. They usually nest high in the trees, but often come down to lower heights, flashing bright orange and black feathers to delighted observers. Active and acrobatic by nature, Baltimore Orioles may even feed upside down at time.

Baltimore Orioles eat insects and berries. They can easily be attracted to gardens by nailing orange wedges to tree branches. Baltimore Orioles are also known to feed at hummingbird feeders and sapsucker wells.

114. The other name of Baltimore Oriole was _____.
- Bullock's Oriole
 - Baltimore's Oriole
 - Northern Oriole
 - Southern Oriole
115. The nest of the Baltimore Oriole _____.
- is in a tree cavity
 - stands upon a branch of a tree
 - hangs from a branch of a tree
 - is usually low in the branches
116. Which of the following is the closest in size to a Baltimore Oriole?
- The size of a half-scale
 - A little more than a half-scale
 - A little less than a half-scale
 - A foot ruler
117. The Baltimore Oriole spend the winters in the _____.
- Dakotas
 - Carolinas
 - Tropics
 - Deserts
118. What is the colour of the female Baltimore Oriole?
- Bright Orange
 - Light Orange
 - Dull Orange
 - White
119. Which of the following does not attract the Baltimore Oriole?
- Oranges
 - Hummingbird feeders
 - Sapsucker wells
 - Sunflower seeds
120. The Baltimore Oriole can be found as far west as
- North and South Dakota
 - The Carolinas
 - California
 - Baltimore
121. Which of the following is not true about the Baltimore Oriole?
- They feed upside down sometimes.
 - They may breed with the Bullock's Oriole.
 - The Baltimore Oriole is uncommon in the U.S.
 - The Baltimore Oriole has a black throat.

122. Where would I probably not find a Baltimore Oriole ?
 (a) High in the trees
 (b) In gardens and neighbourhoods
 (c) Deciduous woodlands
 (d) The Sahara desert
123. Which of these colours is not found on a Baltimore Oriole?
 (a) Purple (b) Orange
 (c) White (d) Black

PASSAGE - 13

As I stepped out of the train I felt unusually solitary since I was the only passenger to alight. I was accustomed to arriving in the summer, when holiday-makers throng coastal resorts and this was my first visit when the season was over. My destination was a little village which was eight miles by road. It took only a few minutes for me to come to the foot of the cliff path. When I reached the top I had left all signs of habitation behind me. I was surprised to notice that the sky was already a flame with the sunset. It seemed to be getting dark amazingly quickly. I was at a loss to account for the exceptionally early end of daylight since I did not think I had walked unduly slowly. Then I recollected that on previous visits I had walked in high summer and how it was October.

All at once it was night. The track was grassy and even in daylight showed up hardly at all. I was terrified of hurtling over the edge of the cliff to the rocks below. I felt my feet squelching and sticking in something soggy. Then I bumped into a little clump of trees that loomed up in front of me. I climbed up the nearest trunk and managed to find a tolerably comfortable fork to sit on. The waiting was spent by my attempts to identify the little stirrings and noises of animal life that I could hear. I grew colder and colder and managed to sleep only in uneasy fitful starts. At last when the moon came up I was on my way again.

124. The writer felt unusually solitary because
 (a) he was feeling very lonely without his family.
 (b) he was missing the company of other holiday-makers.
 (c) his destination was a little village eight miles away.
 (d) there was no one to meet him.
125. "I left all signs of habitation behind me." This means that he
 (a) came to a place where there were very few houses.
 (b) was in front of a large collection of cottages.
 (c) had come very far from places where people lived.
 (d) had just passed a remote village.
126. I became darker than the writer expected because
 (a) the nights are shorter in autumn than in summer.
 (b) the nights are longer in October than mid summer.
 (c) the train arrived later than usual.
 (d) he had walked unduly slowly.
127. The writer found it difficult to keep to the path because of
 (a) the darkness and narrowness of the path.
 (b) poor visibility and grassy track.
 (c) the darkness and his slow pace.
 (d) poor visibility and dew on grass.
128. When he settled himself on the fork of the tree the writer
 (a) had a sound sleep.
 (b) was disturbed by noises of animals.
 (c) was too afraid to sleep.
 (d) tried to sleep but without much success.

PASSAGE - 14

It is sad that in country after country, progress should become synonymous with an assault on nature. We who are a part of nature and dependent on her for every need, speak constantly about 'exploiting' nature. When the highest mountain in the world was climbed in 1953, Jawaharlal Nehru objected to the phrase conquest of Everest' which he thought was arrogant. Is it surprising that this lack of consideration and the constant need to prove one's superiority should be projected on to our treatment of our fellowmen? I remember Edward Thompson, a British writer and a good friend of India, once telling Mr. Gandhi that wildlife was fast disappearing. Remarked Mr. Gandhi: 'It is decreasing in the jungles but it is increasing in the towns'

On the one hand the rich look askance at our continuing poverty; on the other they warn us against their own methods. We do not wish to impoverish the environment any further and yet we cannot forget the grim poverty of large numbers of people. Are not poverty and need the great polluters? For instance, unless we are in a position to provide employment and purchasing power for the daily necessities of the tribal people and those who live in and around our jungles, we cannot prevent them from combing the forest for food and livelihood, from poaching and from despoiling the vegetation.

PASSAGE - 15

Street theatre in India is a well established ancient art form. Despite the proliferation of modern means of entertainment and communication, street theatre continues to flourish in India.

Street theatre as a channel of communication has for centuries been propagating reforms by highlighting social, economic and political issues present in the society. Unlike in the olden days, its performance is no longer restricted to villages or small localities of the city. Today small groups of performers including students, would stage performances to mobilize public opinion or to help create or raise awareness over a particular issue of public importance. Themes on substance abuse, AIDS awareness, and domestic violence are some of the areas highlighted by contemporary street theatre troupe. Unlike in regular drama street drama employ very little props and images. The human body becomes the main tool in which choreography, mime, dialogues, songs and slogans are extensively used.

Street theatre is one of the most intimate media. Its appeal is to the emotions leading to quick psychological impact on audiences. PASSAGE-16

Self directed learning, in its broadest meaning, describes a process in which individuals take the initiative with or without the help of others, in diagnosing their learning needs formulating learning goals, identifying resources for learning, choosing and implementing learning strategies and evaluating learning outcomes. Thus it is important to attain new knowledge easily and skillfully for the rest of his or her life.

What is the need for self directed learning? One reason is that there is convincing evidence that people, who take the initiative in learning, learn more things and learn better than people who sit at the feet of teachers passively waiting to be taught. The second reason is that self-directed learning is more in tune with our natural processes of psychological development; an essential aspect of maturing is developing the ability to take increasing responsibility of our own lives to become increasingly self-directed. The third reason is that many of the new developments in education put a heavy responsibility on the learners to take a good deal of initiative in their own learning. To meet the challenges in today's instructive environment, self-directed learning is most essential.

139. In self-directed learning, an individual

- (a) Takes initiative with or without the help of others
(b) Is passive and waits for directions
(c) Is helpless and dependent
(d) Takes initiative, without an objective

140. There is need for self-directed learning because

- (a) it is less challenging
(b) it helps people to learn more things and learn better
(c) it is a more cost-effective method
(d) it is a modern method of learning

141. Which word best describes self-directed learning ?

- (a) Active learning (b) Passive learning
(c) Compulsory learning (d) Repulsive learning

142. The modern environment according to the author is

- (a) Restrictive (b) Instructive
(c) Less developed (d) Impracticable
